DC Station Groundbreaking

BART's Knowles Ave., Junipero Serra Job

By Will E. Thomas

The officialdom of once-wary Daly City helped break ground on Monday for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's $3,882,000 end-of-the-line station.

A large contingent from northern San Mateo County, as well as several classes from Daly City's Woodrow Wilson School also participated in the 11 a.m. ceremony at the station site at Knowles Avenue and Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City.

Vice Mayor Frank Pacelli of Daly City and John Tolan of San Francisco were the municipal speakers. Neither Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett nor San Francisco's Mayor Joseph Alioto could attend.

James Doherty, BART president, and James Fitzgerald, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, also spoke briefly.

Pacelli called the groundbreaking, a "tremendous occasion."

Doherty saw it as a "political milestone."

Daly City officials had not always been so enthused over BART's intended station and the eight-year planning period was

Recall Election Issue Appeal by Ted Long

By Bob Peterson

San Bruno's former councilman, Ted Long, has appealed the decision of Judge Mel Cohn denying Long's attempt to set aside the recall election. The suit was based on irregularities in the verification of petitions.

Meantime, Council members on a 4-1 vote Monday, authorized City Attorney Joseph Galligan to receive an additional $50 an hour to defend the city in the case.

The original lawsuit, filed January 26, included Long, Councilman (then-mayor) Neil Christal and former Councilman Dick Griffith as plaintiffs.

Named as defendants were City Clerk Carl Hultberg, the city itself and ten John Does. At the time the suit was heard, Galligan represented Hultberg and the city. There was at that time some debate as to whether Galligan was in conflict of interest. Based on this conflict, Christal voted against granting Galligan separate allowance.

In the notice of appeal to the First Appellate District, both Long and Griffith are named as those appealing the case, and requesting transcripts of all proceedings pertinent to it.

However, there also has been a substitute of attorneys, and this substitution request was made by Long only. Galligan said he therefore must assume that it is only Long who is appealing the decision, unless he (Galligan) gets notice the new attorneys also represent Griffith.

The attorneys of record are Elliott, Robertson and Peterson. Long has substituted San Francisco attorneys Stephens and Ashford.

Midway Unit Residents Want Buses

Residents of Midway Village in Daly City's Bayshore District are angry about City of San Francisco plans to eliminate their municipal bus service.

Over 30 persons relayed their unhappiness with San Francisco to the Daly City Council Monday night. They also presented two petitions, which spokesmen for the group said contained 700 signatures calling for the continuation of the bus line.

San Francisco's Public Utilities Commission and its board of Supervisors apparently moved to drop the service — although a date has not been set — without notifying residents or the City of Daly City of its plans.

Councilmen said they would exert whatever influence they might have in San Francisco, noting Daly City already had taken a position against dropping the service into the housing area.

They suggested that Navy personnel who live there contact Twelfth Naval District headquarters for possible Navy support.

St. Peter's Church

Much-Decorated Ex-Army Chaplain Replaces Duryea

A former Army chaplain, decorated for bravery in Vietnam, is the new priest of St. Peter's Church in Pacifica, replacing Father Robert Duryea who was excommunicated for marrying.

The Rev. Arthur C. Davenport, 46, was accepted by the parish council which at first had challenged his appointment by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken. Father Davenport said his first Masses Sunday.

Father Davenport was accepted by the congregation only after a lengthy interview by the council. Archbishop McGucken was out of the city and unavailable for comment on the council's unusual action in demanding an interview with his appointee before voting approval.

Ordained in 1948, Father Davenport was a chaplain during the Korean War. After the war he served parishes in Oakland, San Francisco and Menlo Park briefly before returning to an Army chaplaincy. In 1967-68 in Vietnam he won a number of decorations including the Bronze Star with three oak leaf clusters. He retired from active Army status at Ft. Ord last Frbruary.

Father Duryea, 49, was excommunicated April 13 after it became known to the archbishop he had been married for seven years to a 30-year-old San Jose hospital nurse and had a 5-year-old son named Paul.

The St. Peter's congregation, which Father Duryea served for five years, had sought to keep him.

The Rev. John Duryea, brother of the unfrocked priest, drew applause from his congregation at St. Ann's Chapel at Stanford University Sunday after a sermon suggesting the celibacy rule be eased.

He said the celibacy requirement was established in the twelfth century to solve problems of inheritance of church property by priestly offspring.

Applications Being Accepted for Bruno Conservation Unit

Applications are being sought by San Bruno council members for the establishment of a seven-member citywide conservation committee.

The motion by Councilman George Corey was in response to a letter sent the council by conservation writer Larry Green, a letter the council felt was derogatory in nature.

In the letter, Green referred to defeat of a proposal to establish a permanent environmental quality committee, suggested by then-Councilman Ted Long, and said the present council were "no bell ringers" when it comes to conservation.

Mayor Maurice Hamilton said the proposal suggested by Long would usurp the council's authority.

Councilman George Corey said there is no indication the group Green is associated with wants to work with the council. "They seem to want to function on their own," he said.

Councilman Tony Governale, claiming he had tried without success to contact each member of the so-called environmental quality committee, said, "Green is more interested with ringing bells than he is with environment."

Long's proposal, of what he called an environmental control board commission, was twofold. It was to be the clearing house of environmental information, and was to act as an action committee to make positive recommendations.

The commission was to report and recommend directly to the council. The membership, however, was suggested to be made up of those that took part in the environmental hearings, at the time of suggestion (during recall) considered a political move.

Under Corey's proposal, the seven-member committee will sit down with the council and work out guidelines within the city's structure.

Rowe Wins Commission Appointment

The appointment of City Manager David Rowe of Daly City to the California Commission on Marine and Coastal Resources by Gov. Ronald Reagan was announced Monday.

Rowe, 32, has been city manager since 1969. He was assistant city manager six years.

He is vice chairman of the City Managers Association of San Mateo County and is president of the Rubicon Tahoe Owners, a property owners' association on Lake Tahoe's westshore.

The Commission on Marine and Coastal Resources, primarily composed of experts in scientific fields, advises the governor and the State Legislature on planning for comprehensive regulation and control of ocean area resources and coastal environment.

Bike Trails to Be Signed

North County bike riders will have official trails as soon as signs are obtained and posted.

The Daly City Council Monday adopted Recreation Commission-approved routes, drawn up in cooperation with Pacifica, South San Francisco and San Mateo County recreation bodies.

Signing of the trails is expected to cost about $900, city officials said, with ordering and erection expected to take between 30 and 45 days.

Millbrae Planners

Subdivision Plan Delay

By George Golding

Millbrae's Planning Commission showed no great interest, on Monday, in Earl Wilms' proposed four-lot resubdivision to create sites for a Goodyear tire shop and a McDonald's hamburger stand.

"Should we discuss this before we decide whether we are going to set it for public hearing?" asked Commissioner Joseph Galante as the Wilms plan was opened for discussion.

Chairman Eugene Morasoli told Wilms he "believes it is the feeling of the commission that we will set this for public hearing, considering the nature and extent of this use."

Wilms persisted. He said he could not see the need for a public hearing that is not required by city code.

He asked that the commission go ahead, at least with the proposed resubdivision of his block of property between El Camino and Broadway, south of Center Street.

Also, Wilms asked, the Commission could act on his application for a Goodyear store, even if the hamburger stand plan had to be set for public hearing.

Commissioners responded by briefly discussing the proposed subdivision, suggesting that Wilms might later want to change his lot sizes to suit changed tenant needs. They said he might find it wise to wait, on the resubdivision, until they act on the tire shop and hamburger haven.

The plan for a McDonald's, said Morasoli, was definiately going before a public hearing, May 10 if possible but most likely on May 24, so it was not discussed.

Asked why a public hearing would be held when it is not required by law, Morasoli said precedent had been established by public discussion of other food establishments on El Camino, due to citizen outcry when such businesses are approved without open discussion.

Then it was Goodyear's turn.

City Planner-Assistant Administrator Doug Dawson said he fings the building plans "tastefully done," with "some problems due to the uniqueness of the location."

The city's architectural review committee spokesman blasted the design for its location on the site, for having a huge unrelieved blank wall, "being designed with only three sides," and having "four separate volumes."

In the end, it appeared that the city would like more time to look at the new drawings, be-

I&F Center Denied San Bruno Funds

San Bruno council members Monday put thumbs down on a request by the South San Francisco based Information and Referral Center for a $5,000 support contribution.

The request was made by center director Eve Rendon, who pointed out in a letter that San Bruno is affiliated with and benefits from the South San Francisco center.

She said San Brunans receive aid through the center for such things as finding jobs and part of the staff is made up of San Bruno residents.

South San Francisco presently contributes $5,000 annually to the center, operated by the Office of Economic Opportunity in Redwood City.

Mayor Maurice Hamilton instructed City Clerk Carl Hultberg to file the letter, saying, "There is no budget allocation for this, nor do we plan to include it in this year's budget."

Redding Administrator New San Bruno Superintendent

The assistant superintendent of the Redding Elementary School District, Dr. John F. Clark, has been named the new head of the San Bruno Park School District.

Trustees made the announcement of the 46-year-old educator in a special meeting Monday. Clark is scheduled to begin his duties in San Bruno July 1. He replaces retiring superintendent George Lawry.

Clark, married with three sons, received his A.B. and M.A. degrees at Chico State, his doctor of education at the University of Californjia, Berkeley, and attended Columbia University for twoyears.

Mrs. Ryan Asks Divorce

The wife of Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan has filed a petition in Superior Court for dissolution of the couple's 22-year marriage.

According to the petition, the Ryans were married Oct. 16, 1948, in Quick, Iowa, and separated April 19, 1971. They have five children, ranging in age from 14 to 21.

The petition indicates that the couple's property has been divided by agreement.

Ryan, 46, was a school teacher when he became the first Democrat in 106 years to be elected to the Twenty-seventh Assembly District position from San Mateo County in 1962. He was a resident of South San Francisco at that time, but now resides in Burlingame.

Cardroom Talk in San Bruno

Card rooms as a possible revenue source was discussed briefly by San Bruno council members during their meeting Monday night.

Councilman Neil Christal submitted a proposed ordinance to City Attorney Joseph Galligan for review and recommendation.

Pacifica council members recently rejected attempts to revise its current anti-gambling ordinance to provide a source of revenue for that city.

Free Trash and Debris Dumping

May 8-16 Cleanup Week in Daly City and Pacifica

Daly City and Pacifica residents are being offered free trash and refuse dumping May 8-16.

The cities of Daly City and Pacifica and the Daly City and Coastside Scavenger firms are cooperating in the clean-up

Procedures in each city will vary, however.

In Daly City, the refuse disposal area at the south end of Skyline Drive on the coast will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily for the free use of all Daly City, Broadmoor, Garden Village and Sterling Park residents.

Proof of residence may be required at the dumping site, where an attendant will direct dumpers to designated areas.

In Pacifica, residents may take trash and refuse to the Coastside Scavenger Company's garage on Palmetto Avenue for free transfer to the dump site, from 1-4 p.m., May 10-14.

Citizens of Pacifica may take trash and debris directly to the Daly City deumsite from 6:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., May 15-16 free.

The resident, however, must obtain prior to going to the dump a card to provide admittance.

The cards may be obtained at Pacifica fire stations, Coastside Scavenger Company and the police station. More than one card may be obtained for multiple trips to the dumpsite, according to Fire Chief Cal Hinton, the project coordinator.

Ground Is Broken for Station in DC

not without BART-Daly City conflict.

Mayor Lycett, speaking at a luncheon following the ground-breaking, recalled how he had fought the BART plan.

He admitted he had been wrong.

Other dignitaries present included Mayor Grace McCarthy of Pacifica, Vice Mayor George Corey of San Bruno, Mayor Ray Ottoboni, Sr., of Colma, BART officials, contractor and sub-contractor representatives and Daly City Councilmen Tony Giammona, Lou Papan and MacRobert Stewart.

Work on the low profile station — bounded by Knowles Avenue, Junipero Serra Boulevard, San Diego Avenue and San Mateo Avenue—will be completed in November of 1972.

The station will be 700 feet long with three loading platforms for three tracks. Two parking lots capable of handling 788 cars will be built adjacent to the station.

McCue, Boone and Tomsick is the station architect, while Hensel-Phelps Construction Company of Burlingame is the builder.

A Freeway 380 Meet Today by Ecology Action

Ecology Action of Pacifica will meet today to present both sides of the Freeway 380 issue.

Speaking against the new freeway will be Mrs. Harold Gregory, who has worked with the San Francisco Bay Association and will illustrate her speech with slides.

A representative from the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce will speak in favor of the freeway.

The meeting will be held at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church on Serville Drive in Pacifica. Mrs. Mary McClure has details.

Demana de la Raza Events in Daly City

May 2 has been proclaimed by Mayor Bernard Lycett as the start of the celebration of the Semana de la Raza in Daly City.

The proclamation points out that members of the Indian-Spanish race, inheritors of Miguel de Cervantes Saaverdra, seek a more cordial, political and social relation — link of closeness — "with their brothers to the north."

The program for the celebration:

11 a.m., soccer game at Colma School.

1 p.m., parade starting at Colma School and ending at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

2 p.m., Mexican carnivals at 4 p.m., dance, OLPH.

5 p.m. drawing.

Alec Stores Change Hands

The Alec chain of discount stores, headquartered in Colma in San Mateo County, is being acquired by a Beverly Hills company.

Daylin, Inc. announced today that it and Alec Discount Department Stores have reched an agreement in principle for Daylin to acquire the five Alec stores for an undisclosed number of shares of Daylin stock. The deal would include the property.

Daylin has operated the pharmacy, health and beauty aid departments throughout the 10-year history of Alec Stores.

Alec, owned by Alec G. Land, of Atherton, began in 1961 with a Daly City-Colma store. It expanded to Menlo Park in 1962, Fremont in 1966, San Jose in 1969 and San Mateo in 1970. The San Mateo store is at Forty-second Avenue and El Camino Real.

Nearly all of the Alec departments are operated by licensees. A Daylin official said it is likely Daylin will take over some of these. He said the stores will continue under the Alec name at least for the time being and will operate with the present personnel.

Daylin also owns Disco stores, with seven locations in Northern California and Nevada, and Wonder World stores in Redding and Fairfield. Its sales last year exceeded $340 million. Daylin stock, selling for around $25 on the American Stock Exchange, will begin trading on the New York Exchange May 3.

Harrison on Personnel Unit

The Daly City Council Monday appointed insuranceman Frank D. Harrison to a six year term on the city's Personnel Board.

Harrison, manager of the Westlake agency of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, succeeds Robert Wong.

Wong, of the El Rancho Food Market on Geneva Avenue, served on the board since May, 1966.

Academic Senate Leader Elected

Floyd Elkins will be Skyline College's academic senate president for the 1971-72 college year.

The business department instructor who led the college's tax override victory drive last March, won the post over challengers John McBain, political science instructor, and Rex Smith, science division teacher.

Other new officers for the coming hear are Ken Seydel, vice-president; Secretary Judy Watkins; Hal Hartzell, treasurer; Gus Petropoulos, parliamentarian; and three members-at-large Norm Friend, Grace Heringer, and Ron Weidman.

School Meet at Capuchino

Next meeting of the San Mateo Union High School District Board of Trustees will be conducted at Capuchino High School at 8 p.m. on April 29.

The board approved the superintendent's recommendation for the place change at its meeting Thursday night, April 15. On the agenda will be special reports on the English and social studies curriculum designed at Capuchino and Burlingame, and a proposal for program and schedule modifications at Crestmoor.

The meeting will be the board's second away from the customery meeting place at Burlingame High.

Jail Asked in N. County

South San Francisco councilmen last week adopted a resolution requesting the County Board of Supervisors construct a jail facility in the North County.

Many authorities in the past have stated there is a need for an adequate jail facility in the North County to implement an effective law enforcement effort.

The official position asked also that the cities of Daly City, Pacifica, San Bruno, Burlingame, Millbrae and Brisbane endorse the request.

$20,000 Fire Injures Two in Millbrae

A Millbrae house was ruined nd two firemen injured Wednesday in a blaze apparently set by a small girl's candle.

Fire inspector Edward Williams said the fire was reported at 7 p.m., in the home owned by James Connell, at 730 Clearfield Drive. The alarm came from a neighbor.

Just how the fire had started is unclear, said Inspector Williams, but it was reported that Mrs. Connell was at home with her two daughters, and that one of the daughters had a lighted candle in a rear bedroom.

The fire started in that bedroom, he said, and ballooned up through a center hallway into the high pitched roof area of the split-level home.

Before being extinguished the ravaging fires had done damage Williams estimates as $14,000 to $20,000 worth.

Lt. Raymond Bianconi suffered smoke inhalation during the firefighting, and was taken to Peninsula Hospital. He was later released.

Fireman Mike McCoy slashed his hand while trying to chop a vent through the roof, and his wound required five stitches to close. He was also released.

No member of the family was injured, Williams said.

Board of Education Asks Jury Meeting

The County Board of Education joined Supt. J. Russell Kent Wednesday in requesting a meeting with the County Grand Jury "to discuss relationships between the Schools Committee the Grand Jury and the County School Department."

The request is contained in a letter directed to Albert B. Lindsey, foreman of the Grand Jury.

It had been previously recommended by the Grand Jury that a blue ribbon committee be appointed to determine why operating expenses of the County Superintent of Schools Office assertedly have skyrocketed.

Kent and the board indicated it felt the request for a meeting with the Grand Jury is in order because no member of the Grand Jury Schools Committee contacted staff members of Kent's office prior to coming up with the blue ribbon committee recommendation.

The board received a recommendation Wednesday from its personnel commission that classified (non-teaching) employes of the County Schools Office be granted a 5¾ per cent across-the-board salary increase beginning July 1, plus a $6 monthly increase in fringe benefits.

Action was postponed for consideration with teacher salary increase proposals expected in about a month. There are some 600 teaching and classified employes of the County Schools Office.

The meeting was the last for Fred M. Ballew Jr., of Pacifica, a member of the Board of Education since 1966, who resigned in midterm because of the press of personal business. He was presented a certificate of appreciation and plaque by his fellow board members.

The remaining two years of Ballew's unexpired term will be filled by Ron Bates, Daly City newspaperman, elected to the post in last week's school election.

'Y' Leader Cautions Students at Human Relations Seminar

By WILL E. THOMAS

"Hurry up, but don't trip," students from three Peninsula high school districts were advised at a Saturday seminar called "Youth Leads the Way in Human Relations."

The cautious encouragement came from Yori Wada, the 56-year-old executive director of the YMCA on Buchanan Street in San Francisco.

Saturday's conference at Daly City's Serramonte High School was attended by more than 250 students from Sequoia, San Mateo and Jefferson High School Districts.

The young people had attended the first of three such seminars Friday at San Mateo High School, and they will gather there again this Friday and at Sequoia on Saturday.

The Serramonte conference included four workshops: Black Consciousness: Its Meaning and Expression; Chicano Consciousness: Its Meaning and Expression; Developing More Effective Human Relations in Closing the Communications Gap Between Non-White Students and White Students, Administration and Non-White Students; and Students Rights and Responsibilities.

Adults led the workshops.

Wada, a Japanese-American, described his own youth as one of oppression and silence.

He urged today's youth to foster open dialogue with other groups.

He said, "Generally, the color of skin and socio-economic background can divide you and handcuff your freedom."

He said he hoped they would try to understand the motives of others.

Wada conceded, however, that today's young people only have an opportunity to decide their own values when they are with their peers.

"You need to be interested in and be involved with your peers of all kinds," he told his audience of young people.

He observed that the wounds of discrimination do not heal early—if at all.

Wada urged the youth to study their peer groups, to learn their prejudices, understanding, reactions and roles.

"As creative young persons where do you stand among your peers?" Wada asked.

He acknowledged that all youth cannot be placed in one bag.

He also said he had observed that the young people of today won't allow false kinds of rhetoric without challenge.

"I hope you believe you can change the course of history," Wada said.

Public School Week Events in Millbrae

All nine schools in the Millbrae School District is observing Public Schools Week , April 26 April 26 through 30, according to Supt. Edward J .Muehlhausen. Each elementary school will hold Open House from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, April 27, and Taylor Intermediate will have Open House at the same hours on Thursday, April 29.

The public is invited to tour Chadbourne School all week.

Green Hills kindergarten teachers, Mrs. Suzanne Klein and Mrs. Barbara Gasparini, have arranged a Preview Day on April 30, to which mothers will be invited to bring youngsters who will enter kindergarten in the Fall. There will be a student host and hostess at both the morning and afternoon sessions, and the class will show the newcomers the centers of interest in their room, including their store, library and listening center. They will present a program including their number chart, reading, show and tell, story time. Their visitors will share in their activities. A booklet on a school readiness survey will be given to the mothers, and outlined by the two kindergarten teachers.

Class visits are scheduled at Highlands School on April 28 from 9 a.m. through 11:45 a.m. for grades one through three; from 9 to 10 a.m. for morning kindergarten. Grades four, five and six will be visited on April 29 from 9 to 10 a.m., and the afternoon kindergarten that day from 1 to 2 p.m.

Miss Eleanor Oleson, principal of Millbrae School, will take visitors on a tour of the entire school, so they may watch clases in action, from 8:40 a.m. today.

Plan Voted

Street light installation on El Camino Real between Chestnut Avenue and Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco has been approved at a cost of $13,600.

In approving the installation by PG&E, councilmen also authorized a $90 monthly service charge for the lighting.

The State Division of Highways is presently improving and widening El Camino Real at this location. The wiring for the lighting system will be placed underground in conjunction with this road work.

5 Injured in County Crashes

Five people were injured, one seriously, in a series of weekend auto accidents in the North and Mid-Peninsula.

A 20-year-old South San Francisco man is in fair condition in Kaiser Hospital, Redwood City, following a one-car accident Sunday in San Bruno.

Richard Saniz, 256 Gardenside Avenue, was treated for cuts to his neck and chin at Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, shortly after the 4 a.m. accident.

Another passenger in the car, William Whittington, 22, of 449 Ferndale, South San Francisco, was treated and released from Peninsula Hospital.

Police said the car in which the men were riding struck a light standard on El Camino Real, about 72 feet north of San Benito Avenue.

Police said they were told a third person, reportedly a hitchhiker, had been driving, and left the scene. Both men, according to police, said they were asleep in the back.

Automobiles driven by two 17-year-old Hillsdale High School girls collided yesterday in San Mateo. Four people went to the hospital; the two drivers were admitted.

San Mateo police said the head-on collision occurred on the hillcrest, at 3278 Countryside Drive, San Mateo, with both drivers approaching uphill with their vision obscured by the crest.

Admitted to Mills Memorial Hospital were Mikelanne Metcalfe, of 4211 Highview, San Mateo, and Barbara Jean Burton, 616 Ventura, San Mateo. Both suffered mouth cuts; neither was able to make a statement, police said.

Treated at Mills were Gail D. Sanders, 16, of 661 Forty-second Avenue, San Mateo, who suffered a bruised left shoulder. She was a passenger in the Metcalfe car.

Also treated at Chope Memorial Hospital was Nick J. Chessari, 17, also a passenger in the Metcalfe auto, who suffered a cut right ear and arm, police said.

An unemployed San Mateo painter was arrested last night after an auto police said was driven by him collided with a car parked in front of 1802 Shoreview Avenue, and damaging two other cars before it was over.

San Mateo police arrested Isileli Noala Nanau, 22, of 812 Fourth Avenue, and charged him with drunk driving.

A young Burlingame man was charged with hit and run driving, drunken driving, and possession of marijuana, after a weekend accident.

'Samaritans' Robbed, Stabbed

Two good samaritans, one in Daly City and one in San Bruno became victims over the weekend.

A 31-year-old Mountain View man was robbed of his car and his money Sunday.

John Josef Slim Costandi told San Bruno police he offered to give a ride to a man, hitchhiking from Daly City to San Jose when the man pulled a gun, took $50 in cash and the car.

According to police, Costandi was traveling south on Interstate 280. He picked up the passenger at the Westlake on-ramp to 280.

Police learned the passenger pulled a gun, described as a .38-caliber revolver, at a service station at Mills and San Bruno avenues.

Costandi was left standing as the man he picked up drove off in the car. He was described as a white male in his 30's, approximately 5-foot-8, thin build, dark hair, wearing a light overcoat, cap and gloves.

Police said the car was later found abandoned in South San Francisco.

Robert J. Wilson, a 23-year-old San Franciscan probably will think twice before he offers to direct the "lost" again.

He was robbed and knifed for his helpfulness in Daly City early Sunday.

Wilson was standing on the corner of Lowell and Mission Streets, in San Francisco, at 12:30 a.m. when a 1957 model station wagon approached. One of the vehicle's six passengers asked directions to a street in Daly City, police said.

Wilson got in the vehicle to show the way.

But, police Sgt. Ralph Warren explained, at Brunswick and Crocker in Daly City, one of the back seat passengers held a revolver to Wilson's head.

The suspects took Wilson's wallet, which contained $50, and his jacket and boots.

A front seat passenger slashed Wilson with a knife as the victim got out of the car.

'Papa Panel' at Capuchino

Four fathers will staff a panel for parents and teachers for the San Mateo County Chapter of (CANHC) The California Association for Neurologically Handicapped Children on Thursday at 8 p.m.

The "Papa Panel" session will be held in the Capuchino High School Little Theater, 1501 Magnolia Avenue in San Bruno. The coffee get-acquainted period will start at 7:30 and the program follows.

Participating in the program will be Arthur Horton, Burlingame.

Pinball Fines Levied

A fine of $50 was issued Wednesday against Edward Segali, 51, of Millbrae, in connection with an arrest May 1, 1970, for illegal pinball operations.

Segali was arrested with Erick Carlyle, 71, of San Francisco; Helen Price, 52, and Ted McHugh, 48, both of Millbrae. The latter three also paid $50 fines earlier this year.

Arrested at the same time, and still awating court trial are Joseph Sammutt Jr., and Joseph Sammutt III, both of San Bruno.

Open House Activities are Planned

The north county schools in the San Mateo School District have planned open house activities for tonight.

Some of the events:

CAPUCHINO — Parents have been invited to come to school on Wednesday to observe classes, which will be in session from 10 a.m. to 2:40 p.m. The evening program, from 7:30 to 9, will include a sale of students' ceramics in the art rooms; refreshments, including French, German, and Spanish food offered by the foreign language department; and the presentation of original student works by the drama classes.

CRESTMOOR — For the first time this year, members of the county-run special education classes will take part in open house, scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The physically handicapped students will be in their classroom, and the class will show a video tape of its activities prepared for use in the teacher-training program at San Francisco State College. Another video tape to be shown will document the volunteer work of Crestmoor students in the district's School-Community Service program. Crestmoor math students will present a math contest similar to a spelling bee, a smaller version of the district-wide competitions organized by the "Mathletes," a group of math students from throughout the district.

Youths Held in San Bruno

San Bruno police officers arrested two youths on burglary charges on Friday after allegedly finding them in someone else's car.

Patrolman Steven Cottini said he and reserve officer Andy Anderson chased 18 year old Gary Willard of 425 Palmer Court, San Bruno, and a 16 year old companion over fences on Hazel Avenue.

Cottini caught Willard, but the other youth eluded Anderson. He was caught about 10 minutes later.

Inquiry on S. Bruno Overpass Is Ordered

By GEORGE GOLDING and BOB PETERSON

The collapse of the Freeway 380 overpass in San Bruno Wednesday will be investigated by a State Assembly subcommittee, it was promised as rail traffic resumed through the ruined area Thursday.

Five workmen were injured when the concrete and steel roadbed of the overpass, under construction, fell in huge chunks across both main lines of the Southern Pacific in north San Bruno. Minor damage was done to the railbed. One vehicle was damaged by flying debris.

Assemblyman Frank Lanterman of La Canada said his Assembly Subcommittee on Highway Structures would probe the near-disaster. Only yesterday, Assemblyman Lanterman called for new engineering standards for freeway structures especially in light of earthquake danger.

He said today the spectacular collapse of the partially completed Route 380 overpass onto the heavily traveled rail lines seemed "typical of pre-stressed concrete overpasses and bridges, especially during construction, because of the loose support area when handling them."

The 14 massive reinforced concrete girders, weighing from 40 to 90 tons apiece, crashed onto the tracks at 2:45 p.m. when the iron falsework that was supporting them buckled and collapsed.

Southern Pacific said its tracks were cleaned up by 10 p.m., but commuters had to resort to buses to get home last night.

Commuter trains this morning were on schedule and spokesmen for the railroad said the roadbed had received only minor damage.

At the same time, a spokesman for the construction firm, Peter Kiewit & Sons, said he could not comment until the company had a chance to assess the situation.

San Bruno police said a bystander who lives nearby told them that he had seen the huge concrete and steel structure swaying in the wind on Tuesday.

Three of the five workmen who were injured.

Peninsula commuters took their fate in stride. Most apparently knew quickly they had to find other transportation home. Seventeen southbound (and five northbound) trains were cancelled.

Instead of the Southern Pacific Depot at Third and Townsend, all roads south from San Francisco for commuters began at the Greyhound Bus Depot on Seventh Street near Market.

Ken Satrom, director of transportation for Greyhound, said they were alerted to the problem at about 3:30 p.m. and "immediately started scratching for buses."

Assemblyman Lanterman said his interest in freeway bridge structures had been heightened by the earthquake in the Los Angeles area.

"Present highway construction code standards are inadequate," he said, "in light of new knowledge."

The Assemblyman said the commonly used pre-stressed concrete support beams, and steel-reinforced supporting pillars, are just not strong enough to resist lateral strain.

"They are adequate for a static load," he said, "but not for a torsion load."

He said he had "anticipated these things (such as the San Bruno collapse) would continue. We've already had trouble, in the Sacramento area and others, usually during construction.

"This committee, I think, will take upon itself the task of reconstruction of the freeway construction codes, and bridge design codes, just as we have done with the Field Act relating to schools.

"We will want full details on this latest disaster from the engineers.

"We will want to know what happened and why, and what they are going to do to prevent future design failures."

This morning Greyhound utilized 25 extra buses, in addition to the regular runs to the Peninsula. Satrom had no definite figures, but said, "I can only assume we moved 2,000 people out of San Francisco." He said the depot was clear at 8 p.m.

Greyhound also took train crews to San Jose and from San Jose to San Francisco.

The commuters who didn't ride the buses got together and hired cabs, stayed in the city, or called their wives. Telephone booths were filled.

In the deserted SP station, several persons stood reading a sign, written in chalk on a blackboard:

Fontana Sees Need For SC Financing

Rapid enrollment growth is adding urgency to the problem of determining whether any way can be found to finance additional construction at new Skyline College in San Bruno.

Skyline, the third San Mateo Junior College District campus, which opened in the fall of 1969, is educating 24 per cent more students this spring than were attending just a year ago and is "bursting at the seams," according to District Trustee Elio A. Fontana of Colma.

Day enrollment is up 29 per cent, from 1574 students in 1970 to a current level of 2034, and evening enrollment has increased by 20 per cent, from 1826 to 2190.

Fontana, speaking at the trustees' April 14 meeting at College of San Mateo, asked the administration to bring back a report as quickly as possible on building needs at Skyline, as well as at the San Mateo campus and at Canada College in Redwood City, and on financing possibilities.

District Chancellor Clifford G. Erickson pointed out that $1½ million in federal and state matching funds is available for construction of a library-classroom-student center building at Skyline. But he added that—although this facility is considered essential to round out first-phase development of the San Bruno campus—local voters have thrice turned down bond proposals which included the required district share (also about $1½ million) of the project.

Erickson also emphasized that the availability of some of the out-of-district matching funds may expire in late 1971.

Matteo V. Fasanaro, assistant superintendent for business for business affairs, noted matching funds may expire in late 1971.

Matteo V. Fasanaro, assistant superintendent for business affairs, noted that plans for the Skyline project already have been approved by the state and are ready to go to bid, when when and if financing can be arranged.

RECEIVING a cash award as a finalist in Bank of America's Community College Awards program is Mark Simon of Skyline College in San Bruno. Simon was a $250 winner in the Technical and Vocational field. Unavailable for the photo was Dennis Arreola of Skyline College, a $250 winner in the field of Social Science and Humanities.

History of LSSD Given; Open House

The Laguna Salada School District, which two years ago celebrated its hundreth anniversary, is hosting parents and community members to Open Houses in commemoration of Public Schools Week this week.

It was in 1869 that the area now considered as Laguna Salada was separated from the San Bruno District and named the San Pedro School District. In 1911, the southern half of the San Pedro School District was separated and became known as the Tobin District. Its name was changed to Rockaway in 1927.

In the election of 1949, the Roakaway and San Pedro Districs were joined and what was once the San Pedro District is now the Laguna Salada Union School District.

The name, "Laguna Salada", is derived from the salt water lagoon located near the present Sharp Park golf course.

There are few records concerning the San Pedro, Tobin and Rockaway Disrtricts. The first school location has not been determined, but old-timers tell that the original building burned in 1893 and that a new school was built at the entrance to Mori's Point. This building served until the San Pedro and Tobin Districts were formed. In 1914, a school was built at Sharp Park for the San Pedro District and one at Rockaway, which was known as Tobin at that time.

The Laguna Salada Union School District now has 15 schools, with a current enrollment of 8,866. The Sharp Park School, built in 1950, is the oldest school in the district, and Oddstad and Crespi are the newest.

THE Listening POST by Lyle Arnold & Alex Florea

The last and most recently developed of the five major types of hearing aids is the all-in-ear instrument. Made possible by modern electronic miniaturization, it is smaller than a dime and only weighs 1/16 of an ounce!

This type is available in a variety of stock models for people with moderate hearing loss (up to 50%) who want an aid as inconspicuous as possible. This tiny type can also be custom-built to correct up to 75% loss.

While it is very easy and comfortable to wear, the all-in-ear type does have its disadvantages. The microphone and receiver are so close together that some feedback and loss of fidelity may occur. Moisture and wax in the ear can cause problems and this type must be kept clean to work well.

No matter what kind of hearing aid you have or want, come in for a FREE consultation. We have ALL models and types.

'Life' Topic at Westside; A Family Concert in D.C.

The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Westside Baptist Church, Pacifica, at the 10:55 a.m. worship hour May 2.

Two new members will be welcomed into the church fellowship. They are Mrs. Gary Foster and Mrs. Jerry Perraza. Pastor A. David Donneley will speak on the topic "Life in the Blood." Special music will be provided by the adult choir, accompanied by Mrs. Tamara Schmidt at the organ.

During the morning worship hour, a children's church service is conducted for boys and girls four through seven years of age.

The third Sunday in the present Sunday School Loyalty campaign will be observed at the 9:45 a.m. Sunday School Hour. This is a time of encouraging those enrolled in the Sunday School to be present each Sunday.

Four youth groups met at the 6 p.m. hour. Primary "Eager Beavers"; Junior "Astonauts"; Junior High and Senior High CYF.

"Is It Nothing to You?" is the sermon topic for the 7 p.m. Family Fellowship Gospel Hour, an informal type service music.

The Women's Bible Class will meet at 10 a.m. May 4 in the church social hall. At 7:30 p.m., the Boys' Brigade will meet at the church social hall. This class is for all boys, 12 through 18 years of age. At the same hour 17 to 20 from Westside Baptist will attend at the Christian Life and Witness Classes of the Billy Graham Crusade at First Presbyterian Church, San Mateo.

Three GMG groups meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Also adult Bible.

Harriet Weiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weiner of Daly City, will become Bas Mitzvah at Congregation B'nai Israel, Daly City-Colma Friday at 8:30 p.m. Cantor Julius Blackman will be assisted by Miss Weiner.

"THE FUNCTION OF JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES is not really sermonization, but communication," Larry Garabedian presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation said today.

He was explaining his part as "field service" supervisor at their upcoming regional religious conference at the San Mateo Fairgrounds Hall of Flowers May 7-9.

Alvyn L. Franck, district supervisor from Brooklyn, New York, will deliver the keynote address at the opening session on the convention theme "Implanting of the World." He will then conduct a model ministerial training school designed to train Jehovah's Witnesses in methods of communicating their faith to their neighbors.

The Daly City Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses conducts the same school each week at their Kingdom Hall meeting place.

THE LYTLE FAMILY of Vacaville, will appear in a concert of Gospel Music, both vocal and instrumental at the Daly City Church of the Nazarene, 1595 Edgeworth Street, May 2, in both the 9:45 and 11 a.m. services.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lytle and children Bill, Mary Ellen and Rick are accomplished musicians and will be playing the piano electric standard, Hawaiian steel and bass guitars.

Lytle organized and sang tenor for a number of years with the Arlingtonaires Quartet of Southern California.

The pastor, the Rev. William McMahon, invites the public to the services.

A special service was conducted Sunday at the Grace Presbyterian Church. The rite was to commemorate the life and ministry of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. William Harberts.

Dr. Harberts served the congregation until his retirement in 1953. After retirement he was designated as, "Pastor Emeritus."

The present Pastor, the Rev. James McCluskey, ministered at the 11 o'clock service.

After the worship service the church fellowship hall was to be dedicated in memory of Dr. and Mrs. Harberts. Of the Harberts, Mr. McCluskey has said, "Dr. and Mrs. Harberts were an extraordinary couple. Their love for people was infectious. Though Dr. Harberts was the called Pastor of the congregation, he was supported ably by his devoted wife, Lydia. At one time Mrs. Harberts served the church as Director of Christian Education. The present church building was erected during the Harberts ministry. It stands as a perpetual monument to two very dedicated and creative Christians."

The Grace Presbyterian Church is located on the corner of Crocker Avenue and Winchester Street.

OUR REDEEMER'S Lutheran Church of South San Francisco, with 260 congregations of the South Pacific District, The American Lutheran Church, in the first "world mission feedback."

The Rev. Makoto Nakashima, district president of the Japan Evangelical Lutheran Church, spoke at the family pot luck dinner at the local church, El Camino Real & Southwood Drive.

The Rev. Bill G. Willms, chairman of the District World Missions Committee, and pastor of the local congregation, said that the 1971 World Missions Feedback is designed "to help interpret and communicate the world-wide program of our church, as we give witness to the Gospel at home and abroad."

CONGREGATION B'NAI ISRAEL will observe Birthday Sabbath last week.

To be called to the pulpit for a special prayer that night were Murray Cleaner, Linda Kaufman, Terry Levinson, Stella Marcus, Jeanette Raphael, Melanie Rudee, Marcia Rutheiser, Marc Sabin, Karen Schwarzbach, Gary Tessler, Michael Tessler, Michael Veprin and Lisa Zelver.

Family and friends are always invited to attend services at B'nai Israel. The Synagogue is at 1575 Annie St. in Colma, a few blocks from the new Daly City Civic Center.

Cantor Julius Blackman conducts Friday services at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday services at 10 a.m.

BILL POWERS and Phil Daniels announced that Christian Life and Witness Classes will be held weekly, to May 14, in 8 churches around the Bay Area.

This is done to train people to counsel the thousands who will make decisions during the Northern California Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusade, July 23 through August 1, at the Oakland Coliseum.

Both men are laymen of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church of Daly City. Powers is area chairman of the North County and Daniels is a zone chairman.

Various local churches are also securing volunteers for ushering for the Crusade meeting and for singing in the five thousand voice choir.

Mrs. Karl Ostberg of the Broadmoor Church, along with other church representatives, is securing homes for neighborhood prayer groups to pray for the Crusade.

These three people may be telephoned for information and for those volunteering to be trained to help.

Arbor Day Observance in Pacifica

Heading for Fresno and the fiftieth anniversary convention for the American Association of University Women are Mrs. Frank Seebode of Burlingame, Mrs. Jose Camahort of Millbrae, Mrs. Rene Cardinaux and Mrs. Robert Maxey of South San Francisco.

The convention will be held on April 29, 30 and May 1.

PACIFICA will celebrate National Arbor Day May 1, at Sharp Park School at 10 a.m.

Members of Ecology Action of Pacifica, various community groups, and other residents will attend the meeting.

George Hood, chairman of the California Arbor Society, will speak about Arbor Day and give instructions on planting trees properly.

The group will plant trees furnished by the Park, Beach and Recreation Department as a part of the Urban Beautification Project.

The Park Pacifica Improvement Association held a tree sale last week at Oddstad School.

THE MISSION Merchants Association of Daly City will meet at noon Thursday at the Serra Bowl's Friar Room.

BARBARA ERNST is the new president of the Daly City-Colma Smart Set, a club for teenagers who want to help with the problems of drug addiction and problems.

Vice president is Brian Thomas; secretary, Cheryl Modglin; treasurer, Denis Delee; historian, Vicky Reyes and Connie Burrows; publicity, Brad Thomas.

Smart Set's advisor is Ray Savage, Broadmoor police chief.

Meetings are held on the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at Garden Village School, 205 Garden Lane.

New members — they must be over 12 years-old — are welcomed, president Ernst said this week.

Mrs. Ruth Galindo, president of the Jefferson Council of P-TAs, may be contacted for details.

A FIRST PLACE TROPHY and a Superior rating were the rewards for the trip to Sacramento by Westmoor High school's Stage Band.

The Central Valley Jazz Festival was at Sacramento City College on Saturday.

The Superior rating gives Westmoor's band the opportunity to send an audition tape for the state NAJE (National Association of Jazz Educators) festival at Monterey on June 5.

Twelve bands will be selected at the Monterey Jazz Festival in the fall.

Westmoor's solo work at Sacramento was mentioned by the judges. These were Bill O'Shaughnessy on lead alto sax, Mark Benson on trumpet and Russ Golub on guitar.

The judges cited others for their supporting roles, included Geordie Frazer on bari-sax, Bob Donati on drums and Mark Spitaleri on bass guitar.

THE JEFFERSON High School Class of 1951 is making plans for a 20-year reunion. Jack Wilson of 720 Serena Drive, Pacifica, is among those graduates who may be contacted for details.

SEVERAL Serramonte High students were among those attending a recent television program and commercial previews at the Burlingame Hyatt House.

Attending SHS were Steve Carr, Brian Franz, Clancy Hennigan, Rich MacDougall, John Mechura, Steve Rosenthal, Lou Hudson, Jeff Gross, Steven Spoden, Ken Koch, Markos Koulikis, Dave Bacon, Dave Long, Roberto Hecksher, Scott Mandeville, John Fraher and Dan Grgich.

Santo Christo Society's Annual S.S.F. Celebration May 15-16

Committees of the Santo Christo Society in South San Francisco are working to put their annual fiesta on again for the benefit of Portuguese people and their friends.

Activities will open with a dance, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at their hall on Oak Avenue, May 15. Music will be by the Portuguese orchestra "Pasco Brothers," who will play popular music, as well as Portuguese songs for the event.

The highlight of the event will be the presence of Mr. and Mrs. William Borba. Borba is a direct descendent of the pioneers who originally started the organization as his mother and father were part of the original 27 families who migrated to South San Francisco in 1917 and started the celebration in honor of their patron saing, Santo Christo, in Portugal.

"The Santo Christo Society is honored to have the first Portuguese mayor among them that evening," a spokesman for the celebration said.

President Ernest Nova, San Mateo, First Vice-president John Fernandez, South San Francisco, Second Vice-president Joaquim Pereira, Daly City, Secretary Irene Aires, South San Francisco, Treasurer J. Aires, South San Francisco and Sgt. of Arms, J. Bernard, South San Francisco, are working with their committees to see that the annual Portuguese Bread "Masa," and Portuguese Sausage, "Linguica" will be served that day to carry the customs of these people.

Board of Director's members Harry Costa, J. Oliveira, Mrs. Alice O'Bryne, Robert Villanueva, and Mrs. Smith, Mario Gagliolo, Olympio Lucas are preparing the committees to serve the annual luncheon which is the "Soupas," May 16. This luncheon is free.

"It is the custom of the Portuguese people to give food to anyone who sits at their table in gratitude for the many favors the good lord has given them throughout the year. They work during the year but on these two particular days, the event is given to thank God for all favors received," President Nova said.

A parade will also be held on Sunday. Drill teams will be participating. Trophies will be given to the outstanding teams, and marching units.

The South San Francisco High School also will participate.

The parade will march up Grand Avenue to the Santo Christo Hall on Chestnut. There will also be visiting queens and aides from Portuguese lodges and organizations, from all counties in California.

Those assisting the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Aguiar, Mrs. and Mrs. Ferreira, A. DeLuz, F. Farinah, J. Azevedo, A. Barry, L. Garrio, M. Souz, J. Barroro, Mr. Periera, M. Amaral, Olympio Lucas, J. Benito, A. Periera, F. Costa, M. Avila, J. Azevedo, M. Alva, J. Mendoza.

Lauren Peterson Claims Bride

The marriage of Lauren Peterson Jr. of South San Francisco and Karen Lorraine Hermenet of Denair recently took place at the First United Methodist Church in Turlock. A reception followed in the church social hall.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hermenet of Denair and her bridegroom's parents are the senior Lauren C. Petersons of South San Francisco.

For her wedding, the bride wore a Juliet style floor length gown accented with ivory seed pearls at the Empire waist and neckline. She changed to a grey herringbone print pantsuit for her honeymoon.

Beth Hermenet, her sister's maid of honor, set the style of dress for the attendants in a empire costume which featured an overskirt of soft peach, green and yellow floral print over a white underskirt. Secondary attendants included Cathy Peterson, Lauren's sister, and Susie Hansen.

Best man for the benedict was William Boggess and guests were seated by Gary Johnson and Vance Munoz.

The new matron is an alumna of Turlock High School who attended Stanislaus State College. Her husband, who received his high school diploma from Hillsdale High School, has studied at the University of California at Davis. He will earn his bachelors degree from Stanislaus College in June.

The couple is residing in Turlock.

Westmoor High andual spring festival is this week.

Participating groups are the music department, homemaking department, German club, business department, industrial arts, art department, yearbook staff, horseman's association, girls P.E., science department, ski club, journalism, ramification and auto shop.

There is an instrumental assembly today. Thursday, the jazz choir will perform at both lunches, and Friday the girls' glee will sing and the stage band will play.

The homemaking department will demonstrate its sewing machines.

The German club will perform a skit using German music.

The business department will provide information on the operation of machines used by the girls.

Industrial arts will dsplay class projects and the yearbook staff will show how the book is put together.

The horseman's association will show various feeds for horses, different saddles and articles used by horses, while the art department will show painting and pottery projects. The girls P.E. department will perform on the trampoline and the science department like last year will do blood types.

The ski club will display equipment used book. Like last the auto shop's display is to be a surprise.

DAVIS TRIP

Withstanding wind and rain, members of Westmoor High School's Horseman's Association and CSF made their annual trip to the University of California at Davis' Picnic Day.

Narcotics Talk

Officer Frank Cook of the San Bruno Police Department will speaker at the San Bruno Newcomber's meeting May 3 at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at 8 p.m.

Officer Cook's topic will be narcotics. Following his lecture there will be time for discussion.

Interested parents from San Bruno are invited to attend.

The Newcomer will have dinner at Bay Meadows prior to watching the races May 15. All members and friends are invited to attend. Call Marian Kelly for reservations.

Lois Brockway, Welcome Hostess for San Bruno, entertained members of the Newcomer's Club at her home following the April meeting. She played several organ selections.

'Daisy Does It' Theme Chosen

"Daisy Does It" is the theme selected by the United Presbyterian Women of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church for the May 4 mother-daughter dinner, to be served at 6:30 p.m.

A program and fashion show will follow.

Mrs. Carlos Mattson, president, invited all mothers and daughters to attend.

Mrs. Larry Long of Daly City has tickets.

Miss Frost in Essay Triumph

Claudine Frost was the top winner from Terra Nova High School in Pacifica in the "Invest in America" 15th annual essay contest.

The theme for this year was "The Economics of Pollution."

The four winners from Terra Nova, selected by the faculty, were Karen Collins, Theresa Creighton, Denise Crouch, and Claudine Frost.

All school winners went to an awards luncheon, held at the Royal Coach Inn, San Mateo, where the top winners were announced. Claudine received a $25 savings bond at the bank of her choice.

Daly City Couple Recites Promises

Temple Beth Israel-Judea in San Francisco was the setting for the recent marriage of Barbara Eileen Levin and Alan Stuart Rosenbaum.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Levin and her bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosenbaum. Both families reside in Daly City.

Barbara recited her vows in an A-line peau de soie gown covered with beaded roses. She changed to a yellow ensemble for her wedding tour of California and Nevada.

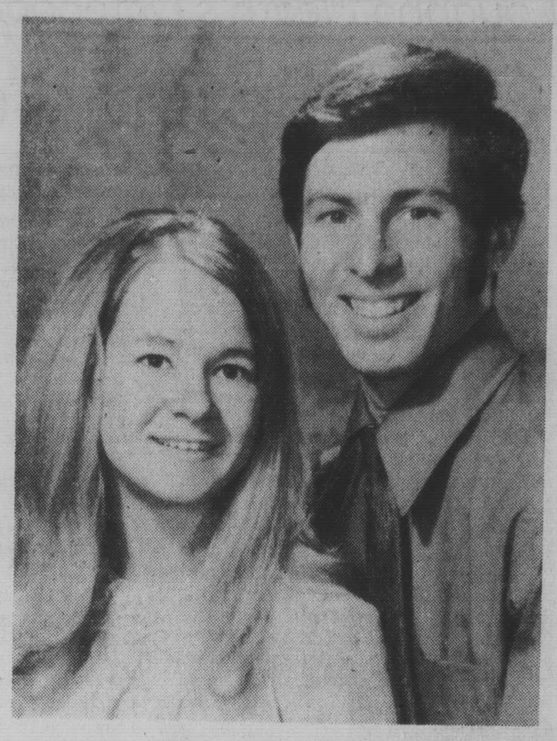
Raspberry Empire gowns were worn by all the attendants. Mrs. Anthony Sunseri served as the matron of honor and bridesmaids included Mesdames Michael Levin, the bride's sister-in-law, Clifford Bobrow, the bridegroom's sister, Ken Vogel, and Sandra Marsten and Katherine Fregoso.

Bridgetee Bastieli, the bride's niece, was the flower girl and Scott Bobrow carried the rings.

Best man for his brother-in-law was Clifford Bobrow and Daniel, Michael and Steven Levin, brothers of the bride, shared ushering duties with Armand Urbina and Jerry Krulevitch.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple received felicitations at the House of Lawton in San Francisco.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Rosenbaum are both graduates of Westmoor High School. They are now living in South San Francisco.



A September 25 altar date has been set by Katherine Lynn Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Holland of Millbrae, and Ralph Nicholas Laino, son of Mrs. Shirley Laino of Pacifica. The future bride was graduated from Capuchino High School and her fiance is an alumnus of Terra Nova High School. (Photo by Staggs)

OLM Spring Festival

Tomorrow is a big day for those working on the Our Lady of Mercy Spring Festival!

"Our Country," the four-day celebration of spring, enthusiasm and parish spirit will start before the sun sets tomorrow.

Months of preparation have gone into the annual event, and for Gabe Adami, the general chairman, and his executive board the next four days will climax an entire term in office. On top for the Our Country festival are such delights as Bugs the Clown who will entertain the children on Saturday and Sunday from 1 until 4 p.m., and the excellent chicken dinner donated by Joe's of Westlake for Saturday evening's dining pleasure.

To add a touch of excitement, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, some persons in attendance will be presented with awards of $25, $10 or possibly $5, according to Mrs. Francis Kelly, the publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women, one of the participating parish organizations.

To add to the general fun of the children and adults attending the festival, the event will feature a wide variety of booths offering various items for sale or providing funsters with an array of games.

On hand to supervise the booths for the Men's Club will be Ted Frankos situated at Pikes Peak with the game of pan well in hand; Larry Lynch and Walt Henry will marshall their forces to oversee the dime pitch in Dodge City; Disneyland will be the province of Tony LaStella and Charles Santuccio; if you feel inclined to the chancier games visit Frank Lawson and Dino Donati in Las Vegas; Ray Forcina and Frank Kelechava will set up shop of Burgon Street to sell their liquid wares; ham and bacon will be available in the Chicago stockyards and Sheldon Lendall and John Kachur will be the men in white aprons and hats; plan to visit the Farmers' Market and let Don Tarantino and Bob Walsh help you stock your larder; there will be general merchandise at the General Store where Don Bechtel and Frank Mullen will be clerking; if you have a yen to tend an aquarium take a tour of Marinworld and let Frank Byrne and Andy Skirra help you select the goldfish that is just right for your home.

Festival goers might be wise to visit Rubin Fuhrman, Jerry McCarthy and Bill Mahoney as they tend the money tree at Fort Knox before taking a side jaunt to Hialeah and the horse races overseen by Dick Mudge!

If all the touring about tends to exhaust you and make you feel a bit thirsty Clyde Silverthorn and Jack Breslin will be delighted to invite you aboard ship for the Boston Tea Party and they'll be happy to provide you with a smidgen of the bubbly brew.

For information about the festival and to make reservations for dinner or to order take out portions of the chicken dinner call Mrs. Frank Kelechava, 755-7732 or Mrs. Robert bell, 756-4442.

THE MAKING AND SERVING OF wines will be the subject of an evening being planned by the Widget World Nursery School Mothers' Association, according to Mrs. Barbara Reich.

The association will host members and friends at a lecture and wine tasting session in the South San Francisco Women's Club Friday at 7:30 p.m. The wine and a film are provided by Korbel Winery of San Mateo and the association will serve hors d'oeuvres.

The public is invited to drop by the YWCA office, 375 South Mayfair, to purchase tickets, at $1 a person.

Reservations may be made by calling 156-7370.

No tickets will be sold at the door.

Proceeds from the program will be used to purchase added equipment for the nursery school which is located in the Westlake Lutheran Church in Daly City.

THERE IS CONSIDERABLE TURMOIL as Mary's Help Hospital Guild members begin the final countdown for their gala, May 8, activity.

Mrs. Mario Mangini said the ball will be held in the Pacific Room of the Villa Hotel, San Mateo, after a 7:30 p.m. no-host cocktail party.

Plans call for dinner at 9 p.m. and dancing to the music of Maurice Wolohan's Orchestra. This, the most festive, of all the guild's undertakings, is staged annually to benefit the coronary care unit of Mary's Help Hospital.

Tickets are available to those making a $15 per person donation to the guild, through Mrs. Louis Castello of Daly City.

Caruso-Berzman Nuptials

Easter lillies decorated the Star of the Sea Church in San Francisco Saturday afternoon when Lois Anne Caruso and William Leory Berzman exchanged vows.

Msgr. James Wade officiated at the three-o'clock service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony S. Caruso and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Berzman. Both families live in South San Francisco.

When Lois walked to the altar with her father she was wearing a champagne colored Empire peau de soie gown with a short train and long lace sleeves. Lace and pearls covered her bodice and Swiss lace appliques detailed the front and back of her dress as well as her train.

The bride wore a pearl and lace headpiece and carried a lace and pearl muff to which were attached three large white orchids.

Frances Caruso, her sister's maid of honor, set the style of dress for all the attendants in a powder blue floor length sleeveless Empire gown of silk and wool with a pearl bodice. Diane Berzman, sister of the benedict, shared bridesmaid duties with Mary Ann Grupe and Rose Marie Ewing, another sister of the bride, and Rose Ann Rosinki served as the flower girl.

The maids carried light blue and white carnations and roses and a basket of the same flowers was carried by Rose Ann.

John Smith stood with the benedict as best man and George Grupe, Bill McAuliffe and Jamse Ewing seated the guests who later felicitated the couple at the Sons of Italy ballroom in San Francisco. Ronnie Bellanti carried the rings and Joey Bellanti served as the rice page.

Mrs. Caruso witnessed her daughter's wedding in a floor length aqua chiffon gown with matching accessories and Mrs. Berzman selected a floor length rose colored Empire gown with beaded trim and matching accessories. Both mothers pinned white double orchid corsages to their outfits.

Questers Hold Meet

Members of the National Questers will for the first time since their founding in Philadelphia in 1944 hold their annual convention in San Francisco May 3, 4, and 5, 1971.

Hostesses participating from the Westlake area are Mrs. Harvey Williams and Mrs. Arthur H. St. Peter.

Members of our local Saint Francis Chapter will be hostesses for the visiting Questers.

A guided tour of the Avery Brundage exhibit at the De Young Museum, a tour of the Japanese Tea Garden and a box supper are planned.

A national antique study group, which has over 475 chapters throughout the United States, National Questers is dedicated to educate, by research and study, and to donate funds to the preservation of memorials and historical buildings.

Rummage Sale Will Benefit Conquistadors

A rummage sale will be held Friday and Saturday to benefit the Conquistadors Drum and Bugle Corps uniform fund.

The sale, featuring furniture, clothing, television and toys, opens at 9 a.m. Friday at 475 Grand Avenue, South San Francisco.

The hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The Conquistadors are the Northern Peninsula area's new competitive music and marching organization. The corps is preparing for an active season of community parades and statewide competitions.

The parents' booster club, which is conducting the rummage sale, hopes to have the youngsters in bright, new red, white and black uniforms by early summer.

Sixty-five young people, ages 12 to 18, are in the corps, the only unit of its kind in the area.

Class Reunion Is Calendared

Reservations may be made through Sunday for the Mills High School Class of 1961 reunion on May 1 at the New Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco.

Tickets for the 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. event may be purchased from Pat Davenport or Judy Fitzgibbon, 615 Capuchino, Millbrae.

Cold Days, Hot Soup

I guess there are innumerable Eastern jokes about chicken soup being a cure for everything from a common cold to malaria. But on blustery days such as those we've had recently, there's little short of booze that warms the body like the hot liquidity of a homemade chicken soup.

All last Saturday afternoon was spent devising the following recipe so if you use it, be prepared to spend several hours in the kitchen. But then, that's what this culinary business is all about, isn't it — fooling around in the kitchen?

The idea of this recipe is twofold. First, it's a genuine, made-from-scratch chicken and vegetable soup. Second, you can go two ways with it. (If thickened, it serves beautifully over biscuits or in a pot pie. If thinned with water and milk, it makes an excellent soup.)

The only ingredient you may not have heard of is arrowroot, which is a thickener and may be found on your grocery store's spice rack. Use it carefully, it really does the job.

We prepare this in two stages: first the basic chicken broth, then the soup. Remember, leftover broth can be saved for use in other dishes.

BASIC BROTH

1 Three to four pound frying chicken, cut up.
1 pound chicken fryer backs (These can often be purchased for a dime a pound)
1 onion, sliced
1 stalk of celery, sliced.
1 sprig fresh parsley
Salt to taste and a few peppercorns.

Place the whole mess in a large pot (preferably four quarts or larger.) Cover with water. Bring to a boil, scrape off scum and reduce heat to a low, bubbling simmer. Cook until meat falls from bones. Separate meat from thighs, drumsticks, wings and breasts and set aside with sliced, cooked giblets. Return bones to the pot and simmer another 45 minutes or so. Remove any chunks of meat that may separate and set aside with other meat. Then pour broth through fine strainer into another pot and discard bones. (Save some of the skin along with the meat if you like)

HOMEMADE CHICKEN VEGETABLE SOUP

6 cups homemade chicken broth
3 chicken bouillon cubes, crushed
1 cup finely chopped carrots
1 cup finely chopped celery
1 cup finely chopped potatoes
1 large onion, finely chopped
3 cups rich milk
3 teaspoons arrowroot
1 cup diced carrots
1 cup diced celery
1 cup diced potatoes
1 package frozen corn
1 package frozen peas
1 small handful fresh chopped parsley.

Mix chicken broth, bouillon cubes and chopped vegetables in large pot, then simmer until tender. While this is simmering, toss in onion and parsley.

After it's all fairly tender, pour the whole concoction into blender and puree well. (You can also puree by putting vegetables through a sieve and returning to the broth) Using the blender, however, really gives the broth a good consistency. Salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes longer. While this is simmering, place diced celery, carrots and potatoes into a saucepan, bring to a boil and simmer until tender. Then throw the frozen corn and peas into another pot and cook them briefly.

Then add the milk to the broth. Put on low heat and add the arrowroot, mixed in with a little milk. Stir until soup comes to a boil and thickens. Dump in the diced celery, carrots and potatoes, then the corn and peas, then the chicken meat you set aside earlier. Stir the whole thing, then salt and pepper to taste. Now, at this point you may add more arrowroot to make the mixture quite thick — or add water and milk to thin out to desired consistency, you can go either way.

I find this soup to be particularly good after a night in the refrigerator for a good blending of the vegetable and chicken flavors.

If you're interested in adding any other vegetables or substituting, you may wish to try asparagus, cauliflower, broccoli, or spinach.

Although we have a lengthy list of ingredients, this dish is quite inexpensive since it will serve at least eight — and chicken and vegetables are reasonably priced at most grocery stores.

Terra Nova Topics

(Editor's Note: This week's column is by guest columnist Tonya Houg.)

HOTPANTS hit T.N.'s campus last week in an array of colors and styles. Most were simple, worn with knee socks, nylons, or boots; some had cuffs, others had vest and suspenders.

The male students expected, gave a positive view toward the new classroom apparel.

One boy, asked if he would wear men's "Hotpants," replied, "If it was popular at our school for boys to wear them I would." However, not all the boys felt they were not appropriate at school and a few said they "can't stand them."

The view among girls tended to be negative, but not completely. Some of the feelings were, "Ugly at school, some girls just like to show off," "They're trying to look like barbarrels," "Great," "We've been wearing them a long time in P.E.," "I don't like them, they are not appropriate for school," "They're pushing it. They got wear pants, now they want shorts," "They get whatever they want," "Nice for people with good legs," "Real comfortable."

RAQUEL MONTENEGRO is a guaranteed participant in the American Aboard Summer Program, in which American students may go to another country on scholarship for three months. At the beginning of the year, Miss Montenegro took an application, and later she was interviewed at home by the American Field Service, Pacifican Chapter. She was selected as the representative from Terra Nova. Two other representatives were selected from Oceana. They were given another application to be sent to the national AFS League in New York. On the application it required a "500-word essay on myself and the relationship I have with members of my family."

After their applications were sent to New York, the applicants again were screened. Raquel got it, for our district.

A couple weeks ago she was notified that she was a definite participant. She has not been told where she will go.

"It could be anywhere in the world," she said, "I am getting all my shots and passport already."

They gave her a list of four books for mandatory reading: "Autobiography of Malcom X," "Things Fall Apart," "Other America," and "Lop-Sided World."

"WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN" is the theme of the Senior Ball this Friday, at the Airport Marina, 9-12 p.m. Jimmy Diamond is performing for the ball.

THE FINE ARTS FESTIVAL was held April 27 at Terra Nova, open house night. The art displays, consisting of the best work from all the art classes, was shown in the multipurpose room. The bands and chorus performed and the drama classes acted out scenes and improvisations.

THREE MEMBERS OF I.R.C. (International Relations Club) attended an I.R.C. board meeting, April 1, and gave a presentation of the things that happened at the Model of the UN.

NELL NORTON

Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

Have you noticed how many menu suggestions end with, "Serve with crusty French bread"? French bread seems to be everyone's favorite.

Checking through my recipes I found some goodies featuring French bread. This first one makes a delicious and attractive main dish.

HAMBURGER STUFFED FRENCH BREAD

1 loaf French bread
1½ pounds ground beef
¾ cup chopped onions
½ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon pepper
dash garlic salt
1½ cups bread crumbs
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1-3 cup chopped parsley
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 Tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ cups shredded cheddar cheese
butter, melted

Cut the loaf bread in half lengthwise; cut off the ends. With a fork hollow out the center of the loaf, leaving thick crusts as a shell. Reserve the 1½ cup bread crumbs.

In a large skillet, combine the one and one-half pounds beef, three-fourths cup chopped onions, half teaspoon salt three-fourths teaspoon oregano, fourth teaspoon pepper and dash garlic salt. Cook, stirring occasionally until meat is browned. Remove from heat and add the reserved bread crumbs, one-fourth teaspoon dry mustard, one-third cup parsley, one egg, one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and one and one-half cups cheese. Blend thoroughly.

Fill loaf with meat mixture; put top and bottom together; replace ends and secure with skewers. Brush with melted butter and wrap in heavy aluminum foil. Bake in 400-degree oven for 10 minutes. Loosen foil and continue to bake an additional 5 to 10 minutes. Slice crossways into generous slices and serve with cheese sauce. Serves 8 to 10.

CHEESE SAUCE

¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
paprika

Melt the fourth cup butter in a saucepan; add the fourth cup flour and blend thoroughly. Remove from heat and gradually add the two cups milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and loses starchy taste. Remove from heat, add two cups cheese. Stir until melted, add a dash of paprika for color and serve over stuffed bread slices.

French bread is served all across the country. Recently a friend sent me a recipe from an eastern paper that I tested and found quite tasty.

ONION-SOUR CREAM FRENCH BREAD

1 loaf French bread
1 can French fried onions
1 cube margarine
1 cup sour cream

Slice French bread into thick slices. Place the French fried onions in a bowl and crush them a bit. Melt the cube margarine and allow it to cool a bit, then combine it with the cup of sour cream mixture and dip into the crushed onions. (You don't cover the bread with the onions, just enough to be sure that each slice has its share of onions.)

Place on a shallow baking sheet in a single layer and bake in 350-degree oven about 10 minutes or until crusty brown.

Serves 6 to 8 people.

San Bruno Resident Married

St. Roberts Catholic Church in San Bruno was the setting Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Rosemarie Soto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aquiles R. Soto of San Bruno and Vincent Piscitello. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Piscitello of San Jose.

The Rev. Edwin Barker conducted the two o'clock service which was followed by a reception at the Peninsula Social Club in San Mateo. After receiving felicitations, the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe. Upon return, they will live in Millbrae.

Rosemarie said her vows in a silk organza gown appliqued with French lace and highlighted with a crown of pearls. She carried Mission Dolores orchids and white roses.

Dressed in yellow chiffon was Maria Toro of San Bruno, the maid of honor. Similar green chiffon costumes were worn by the secondary attendants, Barbara Cervelli of Pleasant Hill and Joette Strongone of San Mateo, cousins of the bride, and Christina Soto, the bride's niece who served as the junior bridesmaid. All four girls carried yellow roses.

Carlo Sammartino of San Francisco stood with his cousin as best man and Manuel Sammartino, another cousin of the bridegroom, seated guests with Ronald Sargent, cousin of the bride, and Michael DeBattista. Robert Sargent, also a cousin of the bride, carried the rings.

Rosemarie, who was graduated from St. Vincent High School, is the sister of William Soto. Her husband is the brother of Madelen, Michael and John Piscitello Jr. He is an alumnus of John O'Connell who has served with the U.S. Navy.

THE RONALD ACCORNEROS (Susan Stohlton)

Europe Sojourn for Newlywed Pair

Honeymooning in Europe after their marriage at the Millbrae Methodist Church are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stephen Accornero (Susan Allene Stohlton).

The Rev. Robert DeWolf conducted the service for the daughter of Mrs. Arthur John Stohlton of Millbrae and the late Mr. Stohlton and the son of Mrs. Baldo Accornero and the late Mr. Accornero.

The newlyweds, who will make their first home in Millbrae, received felicitations after the ceremony at the Green Hills Country Club. Among the out-of-town guests were the Arthur Andersons of Scotsdale, Ariz., Mrs. Roy Petrie of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. John Richy of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thompson of Sonoma the bride's godparents.

When Susan walked to the altar with her brother, John Bailey Stohlton of Monterey, shw was wearing an ivory satin floor length gown with a scalloped neckline and bishop sleeves.

Mrs. Russell Burbank of Palo Alto, the matron of honor, set the style of dress for all the attendants in a lilac floor length gown with long sleeves and a ruffle neckline. Mrs. Stephen Bradley of Campbell was the bridesmaid and Dana Stohlton, the bride's niece, and Lucy Accornero, the bridegroom's niece, were the flower girls.

Dr. Rene Accornero of Saratoga stood with his brother as best man and Dennis LaUrai served as the usher. Ring bearer was David Stohlton, the bride's nephew.

Susan studied at Capuchino High School, Healds Business College and the College of San Mateo, where her husband, a Notre Dame University alumnus, also earned his associate arts degree.

Millbrae Clubs Slate Luncheon

The Newcomers and Millna Clubs of Millbrae will gather for a joint luncheon meeting May 6 at the International Inn in South San Francisco. A social hour at 11:30 a.m. will precede the 12:30 p.m. meal.

The Capuchini High School Chamber Choir, under the direction of Harry Spencer, will entertain.

Election of officers for the two clubs, who will soon merge, will take place during the afternoon.

Mother's Association Sets Meet

An evening of enjoyment and education is being planned by the Mother's Association of the San Mateo County sponsored Widget World Nursery School.

Friday, 7:30 p.m., the Mother's Association and members' friends will meet at the South San Francisco Women's Club, 475 Grand Avenue.

Proceeds from the evening will be used to purchase added equipment for the nursery school in the Westlake Lutheran Church, Daly City. A limited number of tickets, at $1 may be purchased through the office of the YMCA, 375 So. Mayfair. No tickets will be sold at the door.

WHS Open House Plans

Welcoming parents and students to the Westmoor High School Open House Thursday will be the P-TA at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Election of officers will be followed by refreshments and visits to the classrooms and meet the faculty.

In order to support the scholarship fund, there will be a cake sale in the cafeteria. In previous years the P-TA has been able to give as much as $500 toward scholarships for graduating seniors.

Officers 8of the executive board have been president Mrs. Eldon MacRunnels; Honorary Vice-President Clay Kollmann; vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Schott; recording secretary, Mrs. Monte Hill; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Lee; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Thompson; historian, Mrs. L. Johnson; auditor, Mrs. Margaret Edwards; parlimentarian, Mrs. Robert Woodworth.

WHO WILL WIN? Sales representative Loretta Doyle of Leed's Shoes-Westlake shows the more than $300 in Shopping Center merchandise orders which are offered in the San Mateo Times-Post-Westlake Shopping Center's annual "Mother of the Year" contest. The contest may be entered by visiting any Westlake Center store for free official entry blank. Elsewhere in The Post is an advertisement with details. (Starr Photo)

The Jeff Scene

By SUE McALLISTER

Timing and co-ordination make the difference between a bad and good pep girl routine, but creativity makes the difference between a good routine and a fantastic one.

The Jeff Pep Girls recently had the timing, coordination, and, most important of all, the creativity to overwhelmingly win the competition.

Jenny Flores, Karen Foster, Janis Jardin, Janet Vollers, and Fran Bandalan performed first to Get Ready — placing them in the finals with Westmoor, Oceana and South San Francisco. Their second routine in the Novelty Class was to "Rain Drops Keep Falling On My Head" and the six girls exhibited ingenuity and it won them a first place.

SEVEN STUDENTS from Jeff attended a school service convention at Balboa High School in San Francisco.

Jenny Flores, Mark Molina, Vita Hillman, Sue Chervellera, Alex Senica, Sue McAllister, and Linda Adreveno were guests at the all-city event.

At the conference, the schools had representatives at six committees and topics: school service groups, rallies tradition and ways of making money were discussed.

Represented were Balboa, George Washington, Mission, Samuel Gompers, Lowell, Lincoln, John O'Connel, Woodrow Wilson, Galileo, Poly, and Jeff.

The Jeff students learned how important honored traditions are at such schools as Balboa.

FOUR JEFF STUDENTS participated in the annual March of Dimes March-a-Thon against birth defects.

They were Mark Molina, Sue McAllister, Diane Gomez, and Pete Diaz. The students found some of the more interesting highlights of the city in their 20 mile walk — such as flight of 340 stairs and a few new blisters. They earned about $150.

EARTH DAY: Jefferson attempted to beautify its campus.

Interior cleanliness came first, then the perimeter of the school.

Samoa Series at Skyline

As part of its continuing effort to increase harmony between the campus and the community it serves, the Community Education office of Skyline College will offer "Samoa: Its Culture and People," beginning May 5.

This four-part series is Skyline College's third Community Education program dealing with the cultures of specific American minority groups, Dave Marin, associate dean of instruction and director of community education announced recently.

The opening lecture on "History of Samoa and Samoans in America" will be followed by two Wednesday evening lectures on "Samoan Culture in Samoa" May 12 and "Samoan Adjustment in America" on May 19. The series will conclude with a Samoan dance festival on Friday evening, May 21.

"The problem of being an American Samoan is probably less one of being misunderstood than misidentified," Marin pointed out. "Although Samoa and its culture has been legally linked with the United States for more than 80 years, I'd venture to say the average American knows less about Samoa than Israel or some of the new African nations which have come into existence relatively recently."

At present nearly 5,000 Samoans live in the San Francisco Bay Area and a number of them are registered at Skyline College, where they have been active in a diversity of educational and extra-curricular activities.

"This is remarkable when one considers the total population of all of American Samoa's islands totals less than 30,000," Marin concluded.

Rockhound Program in Daly City

Mrs. Robert A. Parker, program chairman of Daly City Rockhounds, announced a program on the fine art of intarsia to be presented by Tom Colman of the San Francisco Gem and Mineral Society.

Colman will appear before the group May 3, at the War Memorial Community Center, at 8 p.m.

Well-known in the Bay Area for his exhibits of intricate design in stone, Colman has become deeply involved in his hobby within the past several years and will demonstrate the techniques and methods used in producing these beautiful "paintings in stone."

Selection of material for its texture, as well as for color and pattern will be the theme of his talk.

Daly City Rockhounds is one of the hobby groups sponsored by Daly City Recreation Department and enjoys a membership of over 100 persons. Its most recent activity includes classes in lapidary for juniors on Saturday mornings.

A member of the California Federation of Mineralogical Societies, the club offers many opportunities for workshop sessions as well as field trips in pursuit of the many phases of the hobby.

Visitors are welcome.

Coffee Break' at Crestmoor

The last of a series of coffee breaks will be staged by Crestmoor High School P-TA on May 5, at the home of Mrs. Frank Jones, 2250 Carmel Drive, San Bruno.

As at past gatherings, the 10:15 to 11:15 a.m. event will provide interested members of the community with a chance to learn more about the local high school and its programs.

High school staff members who will be present include Ronald Berridge, department head, social science; Stewart Dimon, assistant principal, educational services, and George Robinson, guidance counselor.

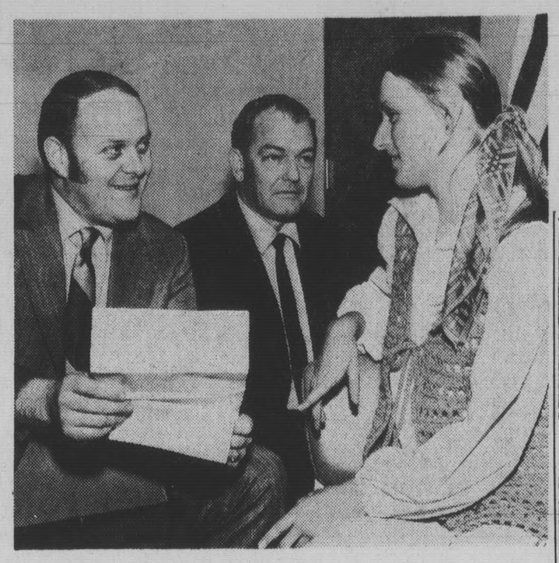
SHS Junior Going Abroad

A Serramonte High School junior with interests in modern dance, art, horseback riding and with an A average has been selected to visit Germany this summer in Volkswagen's annual Youth Exchange Program.

Carol Muller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Muller of Daly City, will exchange homes with a German teenager starting July 11, in the nationwide program which enables 42 American and 42 German students to become "Young Ambassadors." The local sponsor is Ed Norris, owner of Ed Norris Volkswagen at 6918 Mission Street in Daly City.



YOUTH EXCHANGE — Dr. Floyd Gonella (left), assistant superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District, and Don Kirk (center), general manager of Ed Norris Volkswagen, congratulate Carol Muller after her selection to participate in Volkswagen's annual Youth Exchange Program.

Miss Muller was chosen on the basis of high scholastic average, personality, extra-curricular activities and adaptability to change. Carol's exchangee will arrive in Daly City July 22, and will live with the Muller family.

Carol was selected from four finalists, by a committee of civic leaders. They include Grace McCarthy, Mayor of Pacifica; Jane Powell, trustee of the Jefferson Union High School District; Dr. Floyd Gonella, assistant superintendent of the district; Jan Ynostroza, active in youth work; Will Thomas, north county editor of the San Mateo Times and Bud Lycett, Mayor of Daly City.

Brisbane Has Trouble With P.O.

The city of Brisbane is having a hard time getting a post office to call its very own.

Last December the County Local Agency Formation Commission approved annexation of the post office, which occupies a rented building in the Crocker Industrial Park just outside the city limits, to the city. In urging the move, city officials said it was a matter of civic pride.

Annexation, however, was approved on condition that the site be withdrawn from the Guadalupe Municipal Improvement District, which is controlled by the Crocker Land Company, in order to eliminate double taxation for sewer and water service.

B. Sherman Coffman, LAFCO executive officer, reported yesterday that Crocker officials have informed him that they would rather pay double taxes, about $350 a year currently, than suffer the loss of the assessed valuation on the district's rolls.

Members of the commission said permitting double taxation is contrary to the purposes of the agenc

Bat in S. Bruno Rabid

Laboratory tests showed that a bat found dead in a San Bruno home last Wednesday was rabid, Dr. James Bodie, county director of public health and welfare, announced this morning.

The discovery of the bat followed the discovery of another rabid bat in a Burlingame warehouse exactly one year to the day. The last case of rabies prior to that, Dr. Bodie said, was in 1947, when a dog was found to be rabid.

The bat was found on the floor of the living room of a home on San Anselmo Avenue by a woman when she returned home from work with the Humane Society, Dr. Bodie reported. It had apparently been carried into the home by one of the woman's two cats, he said.

The cats must either be quarantined for six months or put to sleep, Dr. Bodie reported.

He warned that if anyone finds a dead bat he should pick it up with a shovel, place it in a bag and bring it to the county's Public Health laboratory at 225 Thirty-seventh Avenue, San Mateo. Dr. Bodie reported the S.P.C.A. also may be called to pick up the dead bat.

S. Bruno Leaders Indicate Where They Want Station

San Bruno Councilmen Wednesday indicated they favor a BART station in their city either above or below Huntington Avenue next to the new Tanforan Shopping Center.

The councilmen made their preference clear at a meeting with members of the San Francisco Airport Access Project.

Three station possibilities were offered. The first alternate would place the station north of Sneath Lane and east of Huntington, near the boundary of South San Francisco.

This was ruled out as being too far away from the shopping area, and too near the South San Francisco boundary.

Alternate number two was to place the station opposite the Tanforan Shopping Center, but called for the blocking of through traffic on Huntington Avenue.

The third alternate was basically the same as number two, although this allowed for Huntington Avenue to be a through arterial. Councilmen said Huntington must remain open.

Councilmen also said the station at Tanforan was desirable because of a proposed 80-acre development just north of San Bruno Avenue, planned by developer Lewis Douglas of Los Angeles.

The plan, which was revealed to the planning commissioners earlier in the week, calls for up to half a dozen high rise office buildings and numerous smaller buildings. A lake is planned for the center of the proposed curved layout. Envisioned now are a supermarket, drug store, medical building, bank, a hotel complex and general office use.

As to the route from the station to the airport, two alternates were proposed. One, which the councilmen favored, was to go underground at the San Bruno, San Mateo Avenue intersection, sort of southeast to the airport then veering southwest to the Millbrae boundary.

The second alternate was to continue to the SP track line, either at grade or aerial, or a combination on down to the Millbrae boundary.

Support Needed

(Frank LaPierre is on vacation. His column is written this week by Will Thomas, the Post's city editor.)

HELP TIME —The Daly City Police Athletic League, the yough who participate in it, need the help and support of all in the community, Police Chief R. A. Petrocchi and Capt. David Hansen, the PAL president, reminded this week.

The police department has sponsored the PAL activities in Daly City for 14 years. However, this year a financial problem is developing and the PAL leaders have had to take another approach.

A letter, just out, sums the predicament:

"In the past you have helped to support the Police Athletic League through our annual bowling tournament. We are sorry to say, this is no longer financially successful. In order to continue our program we must appeal to you and the many friends of this department for cash contributions to continue our youth activities."

Sure, you'll help . . . the checks may be sent to the Office of the Chief of Police, made payable to the Daly City Police Athletic League.

The youngsters will thank you for it!

AND HOW are things on the streets nowadays? A little scary in some sectors, and one top area lawman about six months ago began carrying a little handgun for the first time in some 20 years, he says.

NEITHER the Mayor of Daly City nor the Mayor of San Francisco made it to the BART station groundbreaking ceremony in Daly City Monday. (Though they did send able representatives).

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett of Daly City was swamped at Lasswell's mortuary as a result of the S.F. mortuary employes' strike, according to Vice Mayor Frank Pacelli.

And Hizzoner Alioto was busy mediating that dispute, according to John Tolan who subbed for him.

It's only fair to report, however, that Mayor Bud DID show up for the noontime luncheon after the groundbreaking! A guy's gotta eat . . .

YORI WADA, executive director of the Buchanan Street YMCA, San Francisco, told a group of some 250 Peninsula students at Serramonte last weekend (pardon the paraphrasing, sire):

Some 2000 years ago a group of people with long hair, who wore sandals and were called Christians were thrown to the Lions.

Now, 2000 years later, a group of citizens with long hair, wearing sandals and called Hipies are being thrown to the Christians.

MRS. DORIS PLANT, who won the Jefferson Council of P-TA's Honorary Service Award at Nick's last week, is an old (like in long ago) schoomate of Mrs. June Neuhouse, the good-good teacher who made the presentation for Mrs. Plant's longtime services to the district's handicapped children.

We're sure that the rumor out of Jeff Elementary isn't true ..... the one that claims someone at the district office called the award "political" — whatever that might mean!

Doris has given over 20 year's voluntary service to Jeff children.

MAY AILING Joe Lewkowitz, the veteran JESD trustee, recover rapidly after last week's heart seizure. He's at Mary's Help Hospital.

The attack came less than an hour, apparently, after Joe had called Mrs. Beverly Forrester to congratulate her, even though he openly did not support her.

Joe decided against seeking reelection, and we hear he'd been taking lots of guff Wednesday off some persons for not running again.

Some circles, the talk went, believed he could have won. And that would have left JESD critic Forrester voting and vocalizing only in the audience.

After 18 years, he deserves a rest — though not in a hospital bed.

SAN FRANCISCO STATE'S Dr. Hayakawa was a brief P-TA Council dinner guest. He was at Nick's Rockaway for other reasons, but agreed to say a brief hello to the Parent-Teacher-Principal set.

SOMEONE at that same gathering blurted, "We only accept PHd's," when Drs. Vin Stratton and Floyd Gonella were announced as honorary vice presidents of the group for this year.

OH, AND Jefferson High Chief Ed Morgan's back on the job after surgery and a southland rest.

'All Offenders Investigated Before Action'

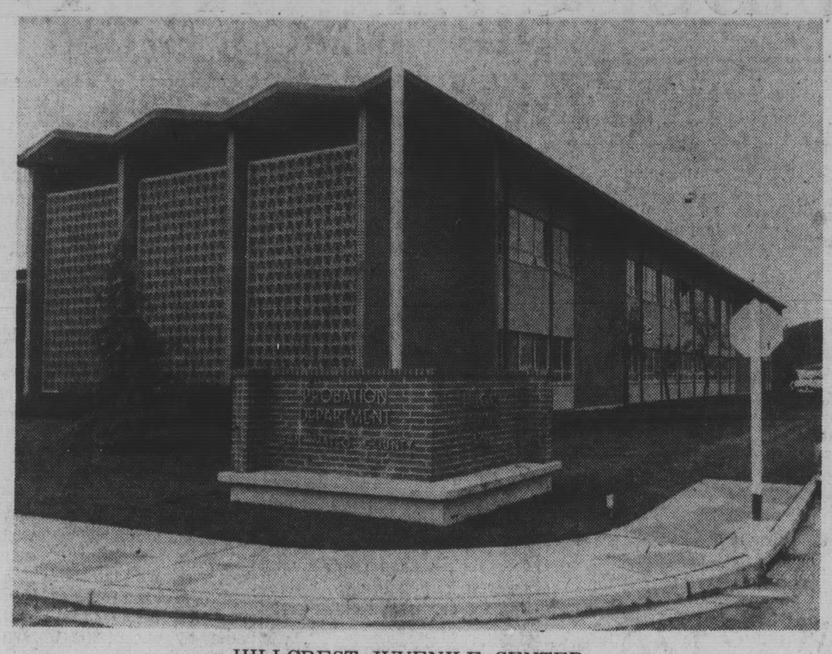
By FRANK LaPIERRE

The juvenile home at Hillcrest has been accused by many policemen of being nothing more than a "revolving door" for juvenile delinquents.

Police, who say they are frustrated by judicial red tape and decisions handed down by today's courts, claim many youthful offenders "beat us home" after being deposited at the hall.

But juvenile authorities at Hillcrest disclaim these statements.

They say all offenders coming through the door are fully investigated before any disposition is made.



HILLCREST JUVENILE CENTER

Hillcrest: a Revolving Door?

Take the case of 15-year-old Billy, arrested by Daly City Police on theft charges (there were 263 such cases in Daly City last year).

From the time Billy was arrested he was treated as an adult.

First the arresting officer read him the "Miranda note" telling him of his right to remain silent and that whatever he says can be used against him, and advising him of his right of legal counsel.

Billy then was taken into the city jail.

From that moment, probation department authorities had exactly 48 hours to conduct their investigation and determine what to do with Billy.

The boy was not under the influence of drugs at the time of the arrest. Had he been, the Juvenile Hall would not have accepted him — but the clock would still be ticking off those 48 hours.

A juvenile contact report outlining the offense and arresting officer's remarks was filed with the Hall at the time Billy was turned over to authorities there.

Part of this form eventually will find its way back to the arresting department. It will outline Billy's disposition.

One subject of some argument is that Juvenile Hall authorities sometimes do not notify arresting police departments when they release offenders.

Charles T. Roberts, assistant chief probation officer, said the hall normally telephones the responsible department of the release.

When Billy arrived at Hillcrest he was photographed and fingerprinted. All normal prison routine of being admitted to a holding institution is experienced by the boy. He is showered and his hair cut, if he needs a haircut. Prison clothing is issued.

A form (Juvenile Hall Admission Record) is made out in detail. Parents are notified and asked to come to the Hall for an interview.

At this point, Billy could have been released to his parents or guardian, hours after the arrest.

But the offense in this case, coupled with his parents' attitude, determined that he be kept at the Hall or appearance before Superior Court Judge Allison Rouse.

In some other cases, a juvenile may come before a referee who rules on the matter. In any case, avenues of appeal are open for the accused.

With today's rulings, specifically the so-called "Gault Decision," juvenile court proceedings are being handled much in the same manner as adult cases.

(Gault was a 15-year-old Arizona boy who was arrested for a petty crime and remanded to a juvenile correction facility until he was 21. The same crime committed by an adult would have received a maximum sentence of five months).

Judge Rouse is in the process of converting the hearing room from an informal atmosphere into a formal courtroom. The judge now wears his robes in court rather than a business suit which previously gave the juvenile judge a "fatherly" look.

"All crimes committed by juveniles are now entitled to due process under the Gault decision," Rouse said.

Referee Anthony Lovoi still handles informally the cases coming before him. Those cases that are contested in the referee's court are turned over to Judge Rouse.

A juvenile hall should not be used for long-term detention and should not be treated as a penal institution. Rather the Hall "shall be conducted in all respects as nearly like a home as possible," sections 502-&851 of the Welfare and Institutions Code specify.

In no way does the juvenile hall resemble home.

There are two cots to each cell. A strong wooden door with a small rectanguler window secures the inmates during night lockups.

A spacious recreation room with billiards and ping pong games helps the inmates pass away the waiting hours. Two staff members — usually a man and woman — watch over the day's activities in each of six units.

There are many rules governing what can and cannot be done by the youths. Each offense is punished by the curtailing of a privilege.

The food is good.

Most of the hours are spent in school.

A full study and classroom load is undertaken by both boys and girls at Hillcrest Glenwood Boys' Camp and the Girls' Day Care Center.

For two weeks the Juvenile Hall is Billy's "home."

It is also his prison.

Berkeley Politics Show Remarkable Alignment

Berkeley is a city of treelined charm. It is a university city and formed a lovely part of early suburbia. In recent years it also became a place of ferment and a haven for the displaced. Side by side, Town, Gown and Down lived in uneasy proximity.

Gradually, Berkeley's politics moved to conform to the reality of population changes. Don Mulford, an Assemblyman of many terms gathered fewer and fewer votes with each passing election. Last time he came in with less than half and was out. Jefferey Cohelan, a long time Congressman was defeated by Ronald Dellums in the Democratic Primary Election of 1970.

SUDDENLY, the new left, the real left and the left of left felt strength. With the Dellums victory came a sense of power. No longer was it necessary to write "Off the Pig". An ingenious plan could "Out the Pig" by splitting the police department into parts.

The left, acting through an umbrella called the April Coalition, also sponsored candidates. Someone connected with this group had taken a course in advanced mathematics and properly counted the number of vacancies. One Mayor was to be elected, so the April Coalition supported a single candidate for Mayor. Four council seats were up for grabs and the Coalition sponsored four candidates for these offices. Now the simple act of matching candidates may not seem profound, but this wisdom totally escaped the rest of Berkeley which supported two competing candidates for Mayor and wallowed through the council race without ever really coming to grips with the need of unified action in the field of over 30 candidates.

So, as Berkeley headed for election day it sped toward a confrontation of unusual nature. The "establishment", which included everyone who wanted effective police protection, was aroused. The "radicals" were organized. The meeting place was at the polls on April 6. On that day one of the silliest ballot propositions ever conceived was roundly beaten and just to prove that silliness recognizes no monopoly, the "establishment" snatched defeat from the jaws of victory and lost the rest of the election.

WHAT happened?

The first remarkable thing about the election was the number of voters. Eighty percent of those registered cast ballots, and with this kind of turn out a representative result should have occurred. It did — but only as to the police issue which was defeated and captured only 31 percent of the vote.

The crushing defeat of the police proposition came about for many reasons. Many people were willing to experiment with candidates but stood steady on the ballot proposal. Interestingly, the victorious candidate for Mayor opposed splitting the police force. But the principal reason for its defeat was to be found in the person of the retiring Mayor, Wallace Johnson.

Johnson could have been forgiven if he remained out of this campaign. When he steps down in May, he will have served for eight years (96 months) (2920 days) as Mayor of Berkeley!

An effective organizer, he formed and led a group called "One Berkeley Community." It included 3,000 volunteers as donors and workers and did a model job of leading opposition to the police issue, "One Berkeley Community" also saw the need of work to protect the City Council. It endorsed Wilmont Sweeney, a workable liberal for Mayor and three candidates for council seats.

The Mayor's race was a three cornered affair which was thoroughly tangled by the candidacy of a John K. DeBonis. The public statements of DeBonis resemble those of Martha Mitchell during a dinner honoring Senator Fullbright. DeBonis was supported by self-proclaimed conservatives and some Republican volunteer groups. It blunted the knowledgeable efforts of Wallace Johnson and drew off 5,000 votes (about 10 per cent of those cast) the vast majority of which would have helped to elect Sweeney.

If the mayoralty election was enough to send strong men to drink, the Council race was something else again. Traditional Berkeley was not willing to accept the leadership of Wallace Johnson's powerful organization. The local newspaper endorsed candidates and refused to go along with one of the "One Berkeley Community" suggestions. An organization called "Concerned Berkeley Citizens" endorsed two Johnson candidates and two others, and a revived Democratic Caucus had its own slate which included only two Johnson designees. Altogether nine candidates received endorsements from competing voices of the establishment. The lone survivor of the nine was an attorney named Kallgren who had the good fortune of being the only contestant endorsed by all of these groups.

IN A PERSONAL interview with Mayor Johnson. I learned that he expects the crucial election to be the next one when four more councilmen must face the voters in two years and at which time the long time trend for Berkeley will be established. By then, the badly divided people of Berkeley may have learned a little practical politics and the need of rational coalition. Johnson also observes that voters are generally quite conservative about issues but are willing to experiment with new faces and new approaches in candidates.

Looking at Berkeley from across the Bay, one cannot help but admire the practical mechanics of the self-declared radicals who worked within the system to successfully confound the establishment. It will be interesting to see if they will be as kind to the system which provided electoral opportunity.

Belatedly, some of the establishment have awakened. Henry Stupes, manager of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, fears the new leadership may "put the hook into business." If it does, traditional Berkeley should ever remember that the hook was baited by the ambitions of people who had to learn the hard way that nine won't go into four.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Post:

Since I first subscribed to The Times I have sometimes idly sat by disapproving of your lack of good news. Well at last you have hit home and I am appalled. I want to cry out against the Judas' that would sell a man out for 30 pieces of silver. You brought back ancient history with your article on Father Robert Duryea. How do you want the 30 pieces of silver, in subscriptions or hard cash?

As a human being, I am offended at the way your black type failed to show any good sides of this man's life. You took a good man's name and splattered it with inuendos. As an involved parishioner of St. Peters, I write with deep concern and support for Father Duryea; he should be commended. He has allowed us to take off our blinders as Catholics and to look awarely around as Christians. Progressive? Because he has encouraged us to be aware of the world and our fellow man in such a changing time. Mr. Kelly, whoever he is, changed parishes because of our "progressive goings on." He somehow did not get the message our community strived to say. I can only react in my own individual way; as of today I cancel my subscribtion in protest to your way of meeting the needs of your fellow man. Call me un-Christian-like in my attitude, but even Christ got really uptight with the money changers in this world.

MRS. JOANNE DEL CARLO
Pacifica.

Editor, The Post:

As a member of St. Peter's parish in Pacifica, I must protest your April 12 story concerning our church.

The story quoted a former parishoner that he couldn't approve of the "goings on." No specific reference cleared up just what he meant, but the suggestion is obviously that there are bad or immoral things happening.

The only "goings on" are that this parish has joined the 20th century—which is too much for some traditionally trained Catholics.

BILL EVANS,
Pacifica.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Catholic Church in this Twentieth Century provided Father Duryea with a procedure for requesting release from his vow of celibacy, and withdrawal from the priesthood in order to marry. He elected, instead, to violate his vow and conceal his marriage. It is unfortunate, as we view it, that Father Duryea selected this method of protest (if it was in fact a protest) to the observance of a vow which was freely and voluntarily made.)

Splendid Residence

From the What's-New-Department there is Frank Dorn's "The Forbidden City," which is the story of what surely must be the most splendid imperial residence ever built, the massive palace-city of the emperors of China.

Through the pages the oligarchs of Ming and Manchu move among their wretched slaves, while the host of their wives and concubines wallow in the service of little boys and grown eunuchs.

In well chosen terms the author demonstrates that the lives of these people were filled with disappointments, with sorrow and with suicides, all moving according to the whims of the reigning monarch, the Emperor of the Scarlet Edicts.

For example: "The Emperor sent for his daughter, who was 15 years old. When she appeared, he asked 'Why have you been born to my unlucky house?' With his left arm and sleeve he covered his eyes, and with his right hand he took a sword and slashed at his daughter, meaning to kill her rather than let her fall into the hands of the rebels." Alas! He only succeeded in cutting off her right hand! Seeing her fall to the ground in a pool of her own blood, his hand trembled so that he could not deliver a second blow. He then ordered his favorite concubine, the Lady Yuan, to commit suicide. This she did by hanging herself, but unfortunately, she recovered consciousness, so the Emperor killed her with his sword. He also killed with his own hand several other of his favorite concubines."

"The Forbidden City", is the story of an age of terror that had to pass, an age that left one of the world's largest nations unprepared for Twentieth Century democracy and ready to fall behind the bamboo curtain into the hands of communism.

The picture of China behind the bamboo curtain is now coming forth. One of the books that disccusses it is Franklin Houn's "A Short History of Chinese Communism." It brings into focus the social and cultural forces that led to the birth of a "Chinese Communist ideology that is dedicated to the reorganization and modernization of the decadent civilization," that which Mr. Dorn describes in the "Forbidden City."

Our Viewpoint

Growing Airport Shows Shape Of the Future

Thursday's groundbreaking for the new $22,000,000 North Terminal building at the San Francisco International Airport once again spotlights the enormous importance of the airport to San Mateo County as well as to San Francisco.

As of today, the airport is the source of more than 35,000 jobs, about 5000 of them airport related although not on the airport premises. Nearly all of these jobs, apart from a few airline offices in San Francisco, are filled by San Mateo County residents. The gross annual payroll of these jobs is estimated to be in excess of $350,000,000, the largest single source of income within the county.

Airport commissioners and executives who spoke at the groundbreaking confidently believe that the number of airport jobs will be doubled to 70,000 or more, by the late 1970's. They expect the gross annual payroll will approach the billion dollar mark.

In a broader view of all the interallied economic effects of the airport, they think it a reasonable estimate that before 1980 that this great air terminal will contribute an economic value of more than a million dollars each day to San Francisco, and a like amount to San Mateo County and the Peninsula.

The physical facts of the airport's growth seem to bear out these amazing expectations. The parallel shows:

That when "Mills Field" opened in 1927 it had 150 acres of leased pasture with a 1700-foot, graded earthen runway. In 1928, the first full year of operation, 19,457 aircraft used the field with a total of 33,470 passengers.

Breaking ground for the new North Terminal last week was only a part of a $200 million improvement program, but the new terminal, alone, will exceed the combined area of the two existing passenger terminal buildings and will have 24 gate positions capable of accommodating the largest planes now being built and other super-aircraft that are about to come into production. Its awesome dimensions are 1000 feet long by 200 feet wide, designed in a wide arc to complement the existing South Terminal, and will have a useable area of nearly 500,000 square feet in two floors, mezzanine and basement — the equivalent of four square city blocks.

It is pertinent to comment, in this connection, that the huge size and economic importance that this will add to the airport is most inescapable and eloquent proof of the need for it to have rapid transit linkage with both San Francisco and San Mateo County points. Without this the sheer volume of moving as many as a half-billion passengers a year through the facility is recognizably impossible — debate on this will be futile and delay will be costly as well as damaging.

In it can be seen the shape of the future.

HMB Clubs SSF in Day of Upsets

Nevada handicappers would go broke trying to make book on the jumbled North Peninsula League baseball race where upsets are the expected and the routine win almost non-existent.

Half Moon Bay High School, which a few days ago had been upset by last-place Oceana, turned the tables on first place South San Francisco by a 6-1 margin. Serramonte, currently the hottest team on the circuit, beat cross-town rival Westmoor, 4-3, in eight innings while Jefferson blasted Oceana, 13-6, and Terra Nova stayed close with an 8-3 victory over El Camino.

Obviously the team that can generate any sort of streak should control the second half of action; only one game separates the top five teams in the standings.

The long ball provided the Cougars with the runs it needed against S.S.F. A four-run outburst in the fifth inning iced the victory as Dave Lea walked and scored on Ed Peble's booming triple. An ensuing triple by Dennis Avila made it 4-1, H.M.B., before Tom Salet, a defensive specialist, turned offensive star with a solid two-run home run.

Winning pitcher Frankie Reyes struck out just two but was in command against S.S.F. all the way. He allowed just four harmless hits in silencing the Warriors' bats.

An infield error allowed the winning run to score as Serramonte won its third straight game. Greg Hansen walked in the extra frame and stole second. He advanced to third on an infield out but a pickoff throw on the same play scooted through the Ram defense for the needed run. Gary Stoller provided all the Ram offense by smashing a three-run homer in the sixth inning that momentarily tied the contest.

John Stack picked up the victory with a three-hitter and six strikeouts.

Lefthander Bud Papadakis pitched his second complete game in as many starts as he bested the El Camino Colts on a six-hitter. Papadakis struck out 11 and walked just two and had things pretty well under control most of the way. Only one batter, Jim Leiva, caused him agony as the Colt outfielder pounded two home runs for the three Colt RBIs.

Two front-runners were upset yesterday as the North Peninsula League played rainout makeup games.

Second-place Half Moon Bay and third-place Terra Nova were upended by the bottom two teams in the standings as Oceana High School pounded out a vicious 14-6 win over the Cougars while Serramonte surprised TN's Tigers, 3-2, in extra innings.

In the only other game, Jefferson bested El Camino, 9-2. Both league-leading South San Francisco and Westmoor were idle.

In an awesome display of batting power, the Sharks, who had lost their first five league outings without a victory, shook loose from whatever was bothering them with a 16-hit attack that featured a 10-run fifth inning.

The big blows in that pivotal frame were struck by Glenn Brede and Jim Romero. Brede hit a two-run homer and later singled and scored in the same inning. Romero likewise had two hits and two runs scored out of the 10 that crossed the plate.

Desi Chavez had four RBIs for the winners. That horrendous, for HMB, fifth inning featured seven hits, four walks and an error.

Gary Troexler and Rick Newman provided the hero roles as Serramonte evened its record at 3-3. Troexler pitched the full eight innings and allowed but two unearned runs. He threw a three-hitter, all singles, and walked just two.

In the deciding eighth Mike Galli was hit by a pitch, went to second on a bunt by Lou Hudson and scored when Newman singled sharply to centerfield. That combination had accounted for the Regents first run in the opening frame when Galli walked, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on Hudson's single.

Al Saisi scored both Tiger runs on sacrifice flies. Losing pitcher John Racanelli was rough on strikeouts whiffing 10 and walking just one.

Second Guessing OK

BASEBALL MISCELLANY: It is, of course, the baseball fan's prerogative to second guess trades, and a lot of second guessing is good, legitimate critical analysis, and at times, justified. But the people who annoy us are the ones with the kind of hindsight whose logic would require binoculars to locate.

For instance, we've heard some criticism of late not about Oakland's decision to trade Felipe Alou to the Yankees this season (it was a trade the A's had to make at the time because they needed pitching more than hitting and got two promising young hurlers for an aging slugger), but of the Giants' decision to trade him in 1963!

And all because Alou got a few homers the first three games he played for the Yankees.

Right away the old Giant detractors start naming off other trades that seemingly backfired on the Giants (though, if you analyze Giant trades since they moved to San Francisco, as we have done in this space several times, you find that they have done surprisingly well on trades—and what other team in baseball has been out, really out—of only two pennant races since 1958?), forgetting the ones which benefitted, and also forgetting that the Giants, because they have one of the best farm systems in baseball, don't have to take nearly as many trading risks as many other teams. They just haven't had that many opportunities to goof!

Look at it this way, Alou fans—Giant detractors: if the Giants had Alou today, could he crack the current starting outfield? Or, could he do better than the current younger reserves have already done?

WE DON'T MEAN THIS to be demeaning, but have you noticed the astounding luck the Giants have been having? There's nothing wrong with that. There's never been a pennant winner that didn't have a lot of luck. On the other hand, can you call losing Willie McCovey and Ken Henderson for a protracted period luck?

IN A RECENT DOUBLE HEADER against St. Louis, Juan Marichal and Bob Gibson were both scheduled to pitch one of the games, but they didn't pitch against each other. We don't know whether it was Charley Fox's decision not to pitch Marichal against Gibson, or Red Schoendienst's idea not to pitch Gibson against Marichal, but either way, it looked as if one of the managers was as much as conceding a doubleheader split; figuring not to possibly waste a well-pitched game.

It seems to us the philosophy should be just the opposite. Instead of sacrificing one of your lesser pitchers to the other team's wonder man and coming back with your big guy to assure a split, you pitch your big man against their's and your lesser man against their's, and gamble for the double victory.

Isn't that what the game is all about? The matching of ultimate skills? If managers persist in utilizing this philosophy, the days of the legendary pitching duels of the greats may have already ended, with the exception, perhaps, of World Series play — and perhaps even then only first and seventh games.

WHILE WE'RE ON SUPERMAN PITCHERS, we're glad Juan Marichal gave up a second, clean hit to Jim Hickman in his no-hit bid against the Cubs, because it if he hadn't the guy who writes that sparkling copy of Astro-Turf would have had a helluva time explaining how come that ball that Ken Rudolph hit over Bobby Heise's glove to break up Marichal's no-hitter, took a bad hop, an event which was attested to by Lon Simmons, Heise, Marichal, and several fans we've talked to who were there.

AND SPEAKING OF SIMMONS, he made a remark recently which made us realize just what old-timers he and yours truly are becoming. In speaking of St. Louis rookie pitcher Reggie Cleveland, he said, "He's a big pitcher," and then went on to explain that Cleveland is 6-1 200 pounds. Our immediate reaction was that Simmons was getting carried away, that Cleveland is only about average sized as pitchers go. And then we realized that both Simmons and your humble columnist were, are, right. Back in the days when Simmons was playing ball, and we were trying to, any man who was 6-feet tall and-or 200 pounds was considered a very big man. But the kids nowadays — especially pitchers — are so naturally huge that one doesn't think of a man as being really big unless he's 6-4 to 6-6, 220-230 pounds.

SUDDEN THOUGHT. If you've noticed how poorly Richie Allen has been going for the Dodgers (although with our luck, the day this is printed he'll whack three homers), you begin to wonder if it has been good for Walt Alston to help make Richie into a loose, happy player, as he is now purported to be. When Richie was miserable and obnoxious for the Phillies and the Cardinals, he hit 35-40 homers a year. Maybe the LA fans should start booing Richie, and one of the ball players should fling a bat at him or give him a hot-foot.

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH. 14 of the 24 major league player representatives are pitchers (eight starters, six reliefers), two are catchers, there are four shortstops, three third basemen and one is a first baseman.

Five of the 10 non-pitchers are regulars, the others bench-warmers.

Now, you can draw from this break-down any conclusions you wish, but here's how we read it. Pitchers dominate the representatives' list, but because they don't work very hard otherwise; second basemen are considered by their mates to be non-entities; outfielders are (pick one) not very bright, always busy, smart enough to stay out of politics, untrustworthy, unpopular, don't give a damn; shortstops are intelligent, trustworthy, responsible, ambitious, popular, and suckers for dubious honors.

WE HAD A COUPLE of more small items on the agenda, but are frankly not in the mood to "complete" this column because at this point we have literally just heard of the death of Russ Hodges.

We believe we should write something, but the words are hard to come by, even though we met Hodges only once in person. And that, we think, possibly sums up the character of Russ Hodges . . . for nobody really ever had to know him personally to feel his warmth, perceive his sincerity and integrity; certainly not to know his or his sports knowledge and broadcasting talent, or to sense that here was a genuinely nice guy. Hodges could accurately project all of that over air waves, and therein lay his genius.

Bye, bye, Russ.

S.M. Vacation and Home Show Space Is Available

Exhibitor space for the 1971 Sports, Vacation and Home Show to be held at San Mateo County Fairgrounds, May 5-9, is more than 75 per cent sold, show producer George Colouris said.

The show will occupy both buildings A and B and the open space outside them at the fairgrounds, Colouris said.

Displays will include a variety of products, more than 70,000 square feet of mobile homes, campers, trailers, boats, sporting equipment, camp equipment, travel displays, and home appliances, furnishings and products.

Colouris said there will be daily entertainment, including archery demonstrations, sports films and a vaudeville act, the Aerial Barets.

Discount tickets to the show, savings of 50 cents on the $1.50 adult admission, are available at Thrifty Drugs, QFI Stores, Tanforan Shopping Center and other stores in the county.

Cap Mermen Lose

At Burlingame Wednesday, double winner Bod Linderman led the Panthers to their second consecutive dual meet victory, a 47-39 win over Capuchino.

Linderman took the 50 free in 26.4 and the 100 free in 58.5.

Frank Elliott clinched the meet for the Panthers with a 1:09.9 win in the 100 breast, giving Burlingame a 47-32 lead. Cap took the 400 free relay, but by then it was too late.

Rick Weisser doubled for Cap in the 200 free (2:05.5) and the 100 fly (1:03.1), and Tom Reudy did the same in the 200 individual medley (2:13.8) and the 400 free (4:30.4).

And at Crestmoor, double winners Rick Bocci and John Wilson led Mills to a 56-30 victory.

Bocci doubled in the 200 free (2:07.1) and 100 fly (1:05.8); Wilson in the 200 IM (2:17.5) and 100 breast (1:09.9).

Mills' John Briley swam a lifetime best 100 freestyle to tie Crestmoor star Dennis Kreuger with a 53.1 clocking. Kreuger also won the 50 free.

Serra Defeated

Serra High School's baseball team battled into extra innings Friday afternoon at Fitzgerald Field before dropping a 1-0 decision to West Catholic Athletic League foe St. Ignatius.

Pad pitcher Mark Souza and St. Ignatius counterpart Jim Feeney battled head to head for the regulations pitched scoreless baseball for the regulation seven innings.

Then, in the top of the eighth, SI scored on two tricky infield rollers.

The Pads tried to rally in the bottom of the eighth. Mike Healy opened with a pinch-hit single. Tom Mansfield followed with a shot to center, but the wind held it up and turned it into an out. Souza hit a deep line drive to left, but SI's Al Collins stabbed it on the run to end the game.

Warriors Claim NPL Swim Title

South San Francisco swimmers regained the North Peninsula League title on Friday with an impressive victory in the conference finals at the El Camino High School pool.

The Warriors outscored their closest rival, Terra Nova, by 108½-89½, as John Holzworth took two firsts and anchored the winning relay team.

Diver Mike Neal of Terra Nova was among a host of record setters as was teammate Steve Morgan, a butterfly expert. South City finished with four first places as the Warriors and Tigers alternated blue ribbons.

South City also took the sophomore division, again over the coastside Tiger competitors.

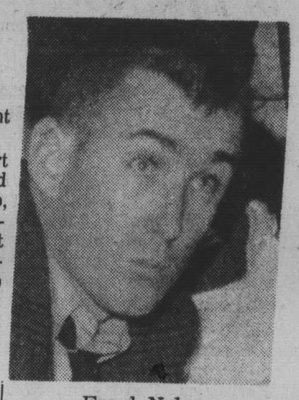
Serra Coach Quits



Frank Nolan

Frank Nolan, head basketball coach at Serra High School, San Mateo, for the past eight seasons, Thursday announced his resignation.

According to Serra Athletic Director Kenneth Houle, no successor has been named.

Nolan, 31, said today he was quitting the post at the Catholic school because he is planning to take his wife and family to Europe this summer. He said he is hoping to land a coaching job with a European club team.

"If I go—and the chances of my not going there are slim right now—I want to combine playing and coaching there. I want to use my basketball talents in some capacity in Europe. I also want to experience the social and cultural exchange there. Those are my present goals."

A graduate of Sacred Heart High School, San Francisco, and the University of San Francisco, Nolan had only two losing seasons at Serra. In 1968, the first year of the West Catholic Athletic League, his team went into overtime against St. Ignatius in a special post-tournament play-off game and lost the WCAL championship by two points. That was the only year one of his teams made the playoffs.

"My experience at Serra was just great," Nolan said. "I enjoyed working there a lot, especially from the basketball standpoint. I never had a group of kids there I couldn't work with."

Junior 'Champ' Olympics Slated

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department and the Pacifica Jaycees will co-sponsor the annual Junior "Champ" Olympics 1971.

The preliminaries will be May 15 at 9 a.m. at the Oceana High School track.

The finals will also be held at Oceana High School, May 22 at 9 a.m.

Boys and Girls in the third thru eight grades of Laguna Salada Union School District schools or residents of Pacifica are eligible. Registration cards must be returned to school or playground by April 30.

Youths Getting More of Say in Recreation

By VERN KROGH

Times are changing and the philosophies of most recreation leaders are changing with them.

The trend is away from adult supervised activities and toward giving teen-agers a greater say in what they want.

As Bob Emert, county park supervisor, puts it, "At 13 you've got them. At 14 you've lost them. We don't have them dropping in at the drop-in centers as they used to.

"Now they have the money and the cars and the motorcycles and they are leaving the local facilities to go skiing, to head for the beaches, to take their own camping trips."

This new generation is probably the most mobile in history.

"Let's face it," Glen E. Smith, county recreation head, says. "We must face the fact that half won't have jobs, and schools must provide education for leisure living. We must utilize our young people to do volunteer work with the retarded child, to help on school grounds and in pre-school centers. The 14 to 20-year-olds must become involved with the people who need them."

Daly City was one of the first communities to recognize this new trend at the end of World War II, when it replaced one adult leader with four teens.

According to Smith, one of the drastic changes that must be made is to bring regional parks to local areas, so when a man comes home after work he can walk a few blocks and go fishing.

"Each has its own place — the buildings and the natural areas," Emert says. "We still need the gyms, the baseball diamonds and the pools. And we need the primitive areas, too."

"Teen tastes have changed," Chuck Vincent, recreation director of Daly City, points out. "Ten years ago we could draw kids with a record dance. Then the combos came along. Now we have to have the larger bands and the light shows."

Eight years ago, Vincent reports, "We handled 500 to 800 at a dance. But we found we had a tiger by the tail. You could feel the unrest. We went to three teen clubs, with 200 to 250 at a dance."

In Daly City, each of the teen clubs has a 12-member board of directors, all kids, but six who are elected and six who are appointed by adult recreation workers.

As far as the drug problem is concerned, Vincent is among the first to admit its a difficult one to solve.

"In the old days, we could smell the alcohol and ask the kids to leave. Now, if we find a kid on a trip we call his parents — or the police.

Mike Kiely, San Bruno recreation director maintains you have to divide the teen-agers into two overlapping groups — those between 13 and 15 and those between 14 and 19.

"When they're younger, they respond readily to anything," he said. "But then they have a mind of their own.

"When they get into high school they want to make their own decisions."

Some three years ago San Bruno had about as big a teen-age problem as any city on the Peninsula.

Dances were held at the San Bruno park center, but soon about 600 youngsters began to gather, unsupervised, in the park, while a band played to perhaps a dozen kids inside the city's community center.

San Bruno dropped its program. But everyone agreed this was not the answer.

Two years ago a group of parents and kids got together, and the city council allocated $10,000 to remodel an emergency civilian defense medical center into the "Skyline Teen Club" near Skyline Boulevard and Sneath Lane.

And because the kids, themselves spearheaded the effort, the club has continued to be a success, Kiely says.

"We ask the kids, 'Don't put us on the spot'," Mrs. Radance O'Bryant, supervisor for teen-age activities in South San Francisco, reports. "Leave the red wine and pot outside."

And they do, she says, because the high school boys and girls want the open door policy at the Drop-In Center at the Magnolia Community Center on Grand Avenue to be continued.

"It's obvious we haven't been meeting the needs and the desires of the teen-agers for the past four years," Jerry Agrella, San Carlos recreation supervisor San Carlos recreation supervisor, admits. "They were coming to the parks, but they were just hanging around.

"We couldn't compete with the commercial places like Fillmore West," he says. "There was more license there, and they went there. But now we are trying to give them the freedoms they want, and still keep high standards."

Mills Grabs Swim Win Over Cap

It definitely wasn't the week for the Hillsdale High School swim team.

The perennial Mid Peninsula League swim power, which had been tied for first place going into Wednesday, completed its 1971 dual meet season on Friday without celebration.

For the second time in three days, the Knights were rudely beaten, and, for the first time in recent history, had to settle for a third place finish in the MPL dual meet wars.

Aragon High School pulled off the coup yesterday, upsetting the highly favored Knights, 47-39, in the winner's pool.

Elsewhere around the MPL, Mills evened up its MPL mark at 3-3 with a narrow 45-41 victory over Capuchino and San Mateo closed out its successful dual meet season with a 58-28 twilight triumph over Burlingame.

Getting back to the Aragon meet, Connolley singled out freshman Dave Hanson and also issued plaudits to Hillsdale's Jeff Lamb.

"Dave waged a tremendous battle with Hans Van Arkel in the 400 free and prevailed in 4:10.3," the coach noted. "And," he added, "Hanson also won the 200 free from Van Arkel in 1:58.8."

"But you have to give Lamb credit," Connolley noted. "He's outstanding in every event he enters." Lamb won the 100 fly (57.3) and then came back to annex the 100 back (1:01.5).

Capuchino succumbed to Mills despite double victories by Rick Weisser and Tom Reudy. Reudy's 2:13 flat clocking in the 200 yard IM is one of the bests in the league this season. He also won the 400 free with a 4:18 flat effort, while Weisser won the 100 fly (1:00.0) and the 100 breast (1:10.0).

"Our depth won it as we took every second place except one," noted Viking coach Dick Lewis.

San Mateo's victory over Burlingame was highlighted by Paul DeMoss electrifying 3:13.7 clocking in the 200 yard IM, which eclipsed the old pool standard by seven seconds. Frank Elliott and Bill White were double winners for the Panthers.

Oceanans Place in Special Olympics

The San Mateo County 1971 Special Olympics was at Mills High School Stadium, Millbrae, sponsored by PARCA and the County of San Mateo Parks and Recreation Department.

Competition came from San Francisco, Daly City, Pacifica, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Millbrae, Burlingame, Hillsborough, San Mateo, San Carlos, Belmont, Redwood City, East Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Fremont, San Leandro, and Moss Beach.

Jefferson Union High School District's Oceana High School had many students placing in the events.

Special education students who placed in the Olympics are as follows:

50-YARD DASH

16-18 year age group: Division 1, Tom Clark, 6.4; James Marchese, 6.7; Tony Sesma, 6.8; Division 2 — Richard Sandkulla, 3rd, 6.8 — 13-15 year age group: Boys' Division 1, Mike Gordon, 1st, 6.5; Boys' Division 2, Charles Pollick, 2nd, 7.6; Girls' Division 1, Judy Gasowski, 1st, 9.4; Girls' Division 2, Christine Arena, 1st, 9.2.

13-15 year age group: Brian Schneider, 1st, 44.2.

Mrs. Phyllis Hoops and Gary Hirsch were co-coaches for Oceana's Special Olympic entrants. Mrs. Pat Cannizzo was chairman, Mary Ruth Linde, vice chairman, and Flo Nelsen, coordinator for the Olympics.

Lunch was given to all participants through the coordinating efforts of Al Urbanus, chairman of the food committee. Nan Bauer and Faith Nomura were the meet directors and Gene Thoorsell and Dennis Darvey were the recorders.

The times established have been reviewed and the Special Olympic committee coordinators have selected the nine TMR students and the 17 Special Education Students from the San Mateo County Special Olympics to attend the Western Special Olympics in Los Angeles at UCLA, July 9-11.

Six students from Oceana High School and two alternates have been selected to go to UCLA.

Padres Win Against the Wind, 14-0

Serra High School's baseball team nearly froze to death in their experiment with night baseball at Beresford Park last week, but cold winds might be just what the Padres need.

The localites whipped visiting St. Francis 14-0, in a game scheduled to test the feasibility of future night baseball scheduling at the park.

The gale was so chilling that Padre pitcher Mark Viehweg, who was enjoying his best start of the year, was lifted in the 5th inning of his shutout because coaches suspected a stiffening arm. He had struck out nine and walked four to that point.

Viehweg's disappearance had no effect on the outcome, though; St. Francis was only able to muster two hits the entire evening.

It was a different story for the Padres, though. Viehweg and Steve Folan led the humiliation of St. Francis pitchers with three RBIs apiece. The Pads batted around the order in the first and fifth innings.

The win gave Serra a 2-5 West Catholic Athletic League record; overall the Padres are 13-6.

One Serra observer acknowledged that it was fun to score all those runs, but he wished that the Pads could have saved some of them for the game with title favorite Bellarmine Tuesday afternoon at Fitzgerald Field.

Swim Showdown

The Crestmoor High School frosh-soph swimming team celebrated in earnest Wednesday after bringing the school its first-ever Mid-Peninsula League championship.

The Falcons clipped Mills 58-28 to close out the ir dual meet season without a loss.

Crestmoor must still beat San Mateo in the finals to keep first place to itself, though. The Falcons barely beat the Bearcats in the two teams' dual meet.

But Crestmoor has never gone through a swim season without a loss, and has never had even a share of a swim title.

Nick Van Asch doubled for the Falcons, winning the 100 IM and the 100 back; Mark Elkins swam first in the 200 and 400 freestyle.

The Crestmoor-San Mateo showdown will run concurrently with the varsity swim finals April 30 at Aragon.

Girls' League Seeking Help

Pacifica's Bobby sox league wants the public to help develop a safer field for girls to play on.

Cabrillo Field is the only adequate field Bobby Soxers have, a spokesman explained.

The league needs fencing material, so the girls and spectators will not be injured by foul balls.

Potential donors may contact Mrs. Mary Baughman or Nick Shernin before 2 p.m.

A New Rec Supervisor in Pacifica

Donald Cadman has been appointed a recreation supervisor in the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department. He was selected from the field of 111 applicants.

Cadman is attending graduate school at San Jose State College in the field of recreation and is working on a staff-assistant program through the Fremont Recreation Department, where he is acting in the capacity of park ranger.

Prior to graduate school he was with the City of San Diego Recreation Department as a community center director.

San Diego experience has provided him with the opportunity of working with a community of approximately 16,000 in the areas of community centers, teens, and junior teens.

These will be the specific areas in which Cadman will be working in Pacifica.

He also has worked on a part-time basis with the Palo Alto and Cupertino Recreation Departments and was on the coaching staff at the University of Wyoming, where he did undergraduate work.

He also traveled a year in Europe, working as a director for sailing tours and charters in Italy and Spain.

Cadman is married and his wife, Veronica, is employed at Pan American Air Lines.

Serra Spikes Rout Riordan

Serra High School's improving track team racked up nine first places in an 82-54 dual meet victory over Riordan on April 20.

The Padres also got 10 second-place finishes in the West Catholic Athletic League meet, whose marks were sullied by extreme weather conditions.

Serra's best performance was a 21.6 low hurdle victory by Bill Monte. Riordan's Ted Bruggencate, however, had the best performance of the meet with a 53-5 shot put triumph.

Cap Defeats Aragon

The Mid-Peninsula League baseball standings have a habit of changing every game day.

San Mateo, which found itself in first place Tuesday, got knocked back to second on Friday by visiting Hillsdale, 5-2. Hillsdale moved into a first place tie with Burlingame, which bombed host Mills 8-1.

In the other MPL game on Friday, Capuchino evened its record at 2-2 by downing visiting Aragon, 4-1.

San Mateo went eight innings with Hillsdale before succumbing. The Bearcats have been winning with an incredibly low team batting average — but yesterday that average caught up with them.

The 'Cats talled twice in the second inning off Knight hurler Mike Williamson. Mike Walker doubled home Rich Yamaguma and Mark Langridge brought Rich Lewis in on a sacrifice squeeze.

Hillsdale tied it in the fifth on a two-run homer by Dennis Tripp, and got three more in the top of the eighth on Bill Winhall's triple and Williamson's single down the first base line.

Williamson struck out ten and walked three.

Burlingame exploded for six runs in the fifth inning at Mills. Paul Lucchesi followed three walks with a two-run single, Clark Anderson, Terry Freethy and Tim Hesselgren followed with singles which, mixed with a throwing error, got Burlingame all the insurance it needed.

Rick Cassidy picked up his second win for the Panthers. Forde set Aragon down with one run on just four hits, striking Capuchino pitcher Kevin out eight and walking none.

The Mustangs pecked away steadily, with single runs in the first, second, fifth and sixth innings. Terry Ruggles scored the first on an error, Scott Strathearn came home with the second on a fielder's choice.

Forde singled in Frank Dove after the latter's triple in the sixth. Aragon's lone tally came in the fifth. Dave Landeck opened with a single, went to second on a sacrifice, and came home on Dave Robb's single.

Chuck Bommarito

Some Faster Foes For 'Flying Falcon'?

By RON REID

Somewhere in Northern California, one hopes, there toils a high school sprinter of sufficient talent to make Chuck Bommarito run under the influence of adrenalin.

For the unbeaten speedster from Crestmoor, whose lofty ambition is two gold medals in the California State High School Track championships, that's hardly been the case thus far.

Bommarito, a 6-1, 180-pound senior, has spent a worry-free spring flashing past his overmatched Mid-Peninsula league rivals without breaking a sweat — like a Lotus against used pickup trucks.

But while the lack of local competition stings his adversaries, it is no great source of joy for the Flying Falcon, who needs sterner tests in preparation for the State showdown at UCLA in June.

Bommarito found another foe who couldn't provide it Thursday when Crestmoor scored a 91-45 victory over Hillsdale for the Falcons' fifth dual meet win without defeat and the biggest step yet toward the certainty of the MPL title.

Bommarito breezed through the 100 in 10.0, winning by 15 yards before he came back with a 22.1 clocking in the 220, his best mark this season for the longer sprint.

"I prefer the 220," Bommarito said after the meet, "it's a longer race and I can kick better. In tight races, I seem to have a 'passing gear' that makes me go faster in the stretch, but I've had no competition so I can't make it come."

Last year, with the pressure of better rivals, Bommarito clocked 9.7 for the 100 on several occasions and ran to a life best 21.6 second place in the State 220, after finishing third in the 100. That was the best sprint performance ever by a San Mateo County athlete, but one Chuck hopes to improve.

"My condition is starting to come along," he said. "I don't want to peak too early. Last year I hit my peak at Modesto. This year I want it to come along later."

Lest this praise of Bommarito sound like a rap on other MPL athletes, be advised that only God can make a sprinter, not coaching, good attitude, nor all the desire in the world.

Along with the sprints, the Crestmoor-Hillsdale meet provided some stunning performances, three of which were new school records for the Knights.

Best of the bunch was a 14-6 pole vault victory by Terry Webb, a lad who also won the high hurdles (15.1) and high jump (6-2) before prevailing in his showdown with Crestmoor's Steve Trueman (13-6), who went 14-6 a week earlier.

The Knights also got a 22-2 long jump victory from Dan Clark and a totally unexpected triple jump triumph from Jim Pombo, who leaped 42-3 in his first attempt ever at the event. Both were records.

Pombo, who is really supposed to be a pole vaulter, has contributed points to the Hillsdale cause in eight different events this season after suffering an injury that precluded his normal speciality.

Other good performances were turned in by Crestmoor's Wright Pierce, a shot put winner at 47-2½ and his brother, Bart, who clocked 20.0 for the low hurdles. John Merslich won the mile for the Knights in 4:36.8.

In other MPL duals, Capuchino beat Aragon 81-55 in a meet to excape the league cellar and San Mateo routed Mills, 89-47.

Aragon's Keith Sellers won the 220 and 440 with respective times of 23.9 and 51.3 while Cap's Bill Fagnani similarly doubled in the weights with respective throws of 45-3 and 140-5½. Aragon's John Sheehan won the mile in 4:34.5.

San Mateo got a hurdles double from Barry Johnston and a 157-2 discus victory from Dale Curry in winning its third dual meet. The Vikes' best performance was a 9:55.7 two-mile by Jim Wright.

Capuchino Beats Cats in Thriller

Capuchino High School tennis coach Don Mahaffey would much rather be on the courts himself than watch his team play, especially during competition like Thursday's 4-3 edging of San Mateo.

"I'm afraid I succumb to nerves a little bit," Mahaffey said, "and yesterday's match was probably the closest, hardest-fought one I've seen since I started coaching. And that's been 14 years."

The race between Cap and San Mateo for third place in the Mid-Peninsula League tennis standings behind Burlingame and 1970 champ Mills has been the closest of all. With yesterday's win at San Mateo, the Mustangs clinched the spot.

The victory was not an easy one. Jum Alley, Cap's number one singles man, got some tough competition from the Bearcats' Tom Drucker. The match seesawed back and forth for over three hours, going 42 games.

Net-rusher Alley finally won 5-7.7-5, 10-8.

Cap's Steve Newberry got into a long, hard match against San Mateo's Matt Love. The two had been rivals on the basketball court earlier in the year; Newberry and the Mustangs had the best of it then, but Love got revenge yesterday; 3-6, 6-1, 6-0.

Mahaffey got a pleasant surprise after pairing freshman Pete Farkus with John Tragoutsis on the second doubles team. Farkus was supposedly just in for seasoning, but he and his courtmate lobbed their way to a win, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Elsewhere in the MPL, Burlingame continued undefeated by blanking visiting Aragon 7-0 and Mills took out some second-place frustrations on host Crestmoor, 7-0.

Jim Kuenzli led the singles sweep for Burlingame. Jim Schupp and Rob McLeod had some trouble before downing the Dons' Gary Kane and Scott Garrison.

Singles men Ross Binder and Kurt Fristrup led the Mills shutout.

9.5 Hundred by Bommarito

No one is disputing Crestmoor High School's Chuck Bommarito's claim as prep sprint king anymore.

The 6-1, 180 pound Falcon senior garnered top individual honors at the Downey High School relays in Modesto Saturday when he won the 100-yard dash after tying the nation's best time for the century in an elimination heat.

The flying Falcon warmed up for his winning effort in the finals by winning a heat in a scintillating 9.5 seconds, which equals the best mark of any prep sprinter in the nation this season.

Bommarito came back in the finals with a 9.7 clocking, which was good enough for the gold medal,

"There was a 15-mile per hour cross-wind, but it didn't help him at all," noted Falcon Coach Ron Etherton. "He definitely had one of his better days."

The San Bruno speedster also helped both the sprint medley relay team and the varsity mile relay team to second place finishes. In the sprint medley relay, Bommarito posted a 20.9-second 220, while he sped to a rapid 48.3 quartermile leg in the mile relay. His teammates on the relay teams were Garza, Pierce and Hicklin.

In the varsity mile, Burlingame's Dave Montoya finished second in 4:18.5, while Aragon's John Sheehan was less than two seconds behind in fifth place with a 4:20.2 clocking.

Other top Peninsula finishers included Hillsdale's Terry Webb who placed second in the pole vault with a 13-6 effort and fifth in the high hurdles.

In the frosh-soph division, Aragon High School came away with the team title on the strength of victories in the sprint medley relay, mile relay and Allazatta's 5-10 high jump victory.

Nearly 100 high schools competed in the meet.

Speed Mark Eyed by DC Racer

Phil Knight of Daly City is dreaming of the world's first 200 mph Volkswagen.

Knight, a service adviser for Ed Norris Volkswagen at 6918 Mission Street, is constructing the "Volksliner" in which he will attempt to break the land speed record for 1500cc engined vehicles during the Bonneville Speed Week, August 22-28.

"The Volksliner will be very much a Volkswagen," the 29-year-old Knight reports. "We are using a 1500cc Volkswagen engine, a transmission from a 1971 Karmann Ghia and as many VW parts and accessories that are consisent with performance and safety."

While inside it is basically VW, the Volksliner will not have the appearance of the familiar Bug. It will be 21 feet long, 36 inches wide and only 25 inches high. The laminated fiberglass body will have a ground clearance of six inches.

Knight will drive the streamliner from a prone position, using a periscope for sight to minimize frontal area. The vehicle employs front wheel drive with the engine and transmission mounted ahead of the front axle.

Knight and two fellow-workers from Norris, Ramundo Nehmer and Ron Lawson, have started building the ladder type frame. Heliar welding and "supertanium" fastenres are used throughout.

Rudy Mortensen of American Racing Equipment of Brisbane is helping Knight with the special machine work and tire and wheel development on the Volksliner.

PHIL KNIGHT AND "STREAMLINER"

Knight first became interested in streamliners and speed records while working for Bob Leppan, a motorcycle dealer in Detroit. Knight assisted Leppan on the two-wheel streamliner which broke its class record at Bonneville in the early 1960s.

The motorcycle business did not offer the career opportunities Knight was interested in, so he returned to his home town of Toledo, Ohio and joined Volkswagen as a service adviser. He moved to California in 1967 and assumed the same position with Ed Norris, the authorized VW dealer in Daly City.

Knight is active in Formula Vee racing and was ranked third in the Northern California drivers' club last season. Formula Vees are open wheeled, single seat road racers built from Volkswagen components.

Knight looks upon his Formula Vee and Volksliner activities as a natural extension of his job.

In August, on a five mile stretch of Utah salt known as Bonneville, Knight will attempt to break the existing record of 193.167 mph set by Els Lohn in 1967 in a Supercharged Coventry Climax powered streamliner.

Question Marks Are Undefeated

Pacifica's adult basketball league entered the fourth week of league play, with the Jox's and the Question Marks leading their respective league.

The Question Marks ran their victory string to four as they nipped the Pioneers, 63-60. The Question Marks' offense was led by Tom Dinsmore and Bob Spinsosa who hit for 16 and 11 points respectively, while teammates Mike Kohles and Rich Gaines popped for 10 points apiece.

Scott Mount and Steve Harrison combined for 35 points for the Pioneers in a losing cause.

The AAA from El Granada handed the Sons of Pericles their third setbaack, 64-56. Mike Jackson and Dennis Tomberlin provided the scoring for the AAA,with 13 points each. Basil Drake took scoring honors in the game with 21 points for the Sons of Pericles.

Turner turned on the horsepower and made it win number "1" by downing the Pompna Casuals 65-53. "Big" Don Johnson provided all the offense for the Ford boy's with 25 points. Ron Oshima and Keri Dunn paced the Pomona Casuals with 18 points apiece.

Mac Smith and Bob Lee combined for 2 points, as Dial Glass cracked Kerries Coffee Cup 61-55. Mike Kennedy and Fred Brown paced the losers with 14 points.

South S.F. Streak Hits 30 Straight

South San Francisco High School's track team has joined its winning streak with those of previous Warrior basketball and football teams that dominated the North Peninsula League in the 1960s.

In that decade the gridders won 35 in a row and the basketball squad had three undefeated seasons and lost just three NPL games in five years. Thursday, the thinclads reached another milestone with their 30th straight dual meet victory.

The Warriors blasted Serramonte High School, 105-30, the third time they have smashed the century mark in league competition this year.

Leading the Warrior parade was half-miler Jack Preston, who registered a 2:00.6 to knock six full seconds off his first place time of a week ago, and Tony Sotoa, who took firsts in the long jump (20-5) and the high hurdles (16.1).

Discus thrower Setoga Setoga took his event with a 164-10 heave.

Falcons Beat Pads, 8 to 6

Crestmoor High School's baseball team handed Serra a 8-2 defeat in a practice game Thursday afternoon at Fitzgerald Field.

The Falcons collected five unearned runs as both coaches experimented freely with their lineups.

Jim Raymond got the win in his first start this year.

JESD Negotiations Falter; Greenwood, JCTA in Exchanges

Daly City teachers declared a "lack of faith" in Jefferson Elementary School District Supt. Frank Greenwood recently.

"The superintendent has repeatedly recommended measures for board action that demonstrate that children and their educational needs are not first priority," according to Miss Anita Jackson, secretary of Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association.

The JCTA members returned the no-confidence vote at a 4 p.m. general meeting yesterday at the Daniel Webster School.

Public Labor Relations, Inc., of Daly City, the firm hired to conduct district negotiations with the teachers, meanwhile claimed the certificated council members were stalling negotiations.

The Certificated Council represents the teachers in meeting and conferring with trustees, or their representatives, under the state's Winton Act.

The negotiators claimed the Council has either avoided meetings or refused to discuss any real problem areas.

"It is obvious that they are doing this under the direction of an outside force," a news release from the company asserted.

The firm's members wants to meet as many times a week as necessary with the Certificated Council in an effort to either resolve or reach an impasse on all issues involving the wages, hours and working conditions of teachers.

Any matters not resolved should be handled through the impasse procedures, the firm stated.

"Unless affirmative action is taken by this board, it must face the possibility of a strike by the JCTA by September and a strike that will have nothing to do with the wages, hours and working conditions of the employees of this district, or for that matter anything to do with matters concerning the welfare of the child," the negotiators explained.

"A strike would be a pure raw fight by the CTA to get a collective bargaining agreement that can be used in other districts as a model agreement," said Raymond Vatterlein, president of PLR.

The JCTA listed 12 items, which it said were typical of the JESD superintendent's philosophy and actions.

Among the criticisms:

Class size increases; "crippling" of the health education program through the dismissal of four nurses; reduction in the library program by 30 per cent; lack of implementation of the community-written District Philosophy; curtailment of art and music programs; reprisal on JCTA leadership; and "repeated harassment" of teachers.

Greenwood expressed disappointment at the group of teachers who voted the "lack of faith."

"A vote of no confidence at this particular time comes as no surprise to me as I consider it nothing more than an amateur's attempt at power politics to gain control of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees and the schools in Tuesday's election," he said.

"JCTA leadership is hoping to create an atmosphere of dissention in order to enhance the chances of electing two candidates who will more readily succumb to the teachers' negotiation demands which at present total an estimated $4.7 million in increased cost," Superintendent Greenwood stated.

"At a time when the District is trying to avoid a $500,000 deficit, the Teachers' Association should be looking to help instead of hurt the taxpayers who have been very good to them over the years," Greenwood said. "The teachers, however, are refusing to accept the responsibility for those cuts that have been made necessary through their previous year demands of higher and higher pay and increased fringe benefits."

Greenwood pointed out that teachers, through the threat of an illegal strike last year, received salary increases, fringe benefits and increment raises totaling better than 12 per cent, thus bringing the average salary of a teacher in the Jefferson District to $11,368 for a nine month work period.

The Superintendent said the JCTA leadership "railroaded through its membership a resolution that is misleading by its use of statistics, incorrect in its assumptions, and totally lacking in complete thought."

As an example, he cited the resolution's comments about cutting the District's art program by 50 per cent and its music program by 33 per cent.

"This means the reassignment of three people to regular classroom teaching," he said.

"The only charge that is worth responding to," Greenwood said, "is the allegation that he was taking 'reprisal action' against the JCTA leadership.

"This is something I have never done in the past and I don't intend to do in the future," Greenwood said. "The teacher in question has been notified of charges of professional conduct unbecoming a teacher for his classroom activities—not his JCTA activities. My allegations are documented by witnesses and the party involved will have 90 days to correct his mode of conduct. In the event that official charges are filed at the end of that time he will have the full protection of the courts."

Greenwood emphasized, "There is no teacher or administrator, regardless of the prestige of his position, that is immune from the rules and regu- this district is expected to comply with."

He said the vote of no faith puts him in some very distinguished company such as Dr. Thomas Shaheen in San Francisco, Clifford Erickson in the San Mateo Junior College District, and Dr. Richard Foster of Berkeley, a former superintendtendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Piling Probe at Airport Garages Due

An investigation of the strength of foundation piling underneath the 6-year-old $11,000,000 central parking garage at San Francisco International Airport, has been ordered.

Members of San Francisco's Airports Commission authorized Director of Airports James K. Carr to proceed with a $30,000 study of the parking garage piling, before going on with plans to construct an addition.

Carr said an earlier study of hydrostatic pressures under the 200,000,000 pound garage, had revealed that it might be wise to learn whether the pilings supporting the huge concrete structure are really as strong as need be.

Commissioner William Coblentz comented:

"This affects the safety factor of the garage, the existing one as well as the future construction, and we want to make absolutely certain" that the pilings will meet their design load.

He instructed Carr, and the airport staff, "to determine if there is any fault, on the part of the original engineer," and if "we may have a cause of action."

Commission Acting Chairman John Sutro asked Carr whether there was any duplication between this study and a previous one, and was told that the earlier probe had provided the motive for this one.

"There will be no guessing," said Carr, "we will know exactly what load a piling can bear."

Museum Tours By Skyliners

"Mankind Discovers Himself Through the Arts" is the expression to keep in mind for the next three Sunday afternoons.

A "mobile classroom" will provide transportation from Skyline College to the museum doors of four major Bay Area museums; namely H. M. de Young Memorial Museum, Oakland Museum, California Palace of the Legion of Honor and the university Art Museum, Berkeley.

Skyline College is presenting a community education course entitled "Bay Area Museum Tours." The Sunday afternoons earmarked for these tours are May 2, 16, and 23, from 1-5 p.m. Janice Cornell, humanities instructor at all three San Mateo Junior Colleges and charter member of the California Humanities Association, will conduct the tours.

Brunan Held

A 26-year-old San Brunan was arrested by San Bruno police and charged with burglary early Wednesday.

Booked was James A. Henry, of 836 Seventh Avenue.

Police said they responded to an alarm at Star Catering Service, 890 Seventh Avenue, at approximately 2 a.m.

Work Program at Crestmoor Needs Jobs

There are students in the San Mateo Union High School District who only attend school four hours a day, and they get away with it!

These are the students of Work Experience, a unique program designed to prepare certain students for the working world.

At Crestmoor High in San Bruno, the Work Experience program is headed by Miss Jean Ellingsen and consist of 25 students. The students receive full high school credit, while holding down a part-time job under the auspices of the school.

"It's referred to as the '4-4' system," said Miss Ellingsen. "Four hours of school, and four hours of work, usually." The students in the program are in all areas of academic work, she noted.

But the program has some problems.

"We're desperately in need of office jobs," Miss Ellingsen said. "The students make good workers — and are supervised through the school. I would highly recommend several of my students for office work — they're highly qualified."

Several of her students are currently working in the catering industry, one is a baker's helper, and one boy works in a service station. Others are employed as stock boys, at Pacific Telephone, and retail stores.

How does the program seem to be working?

"The kids are getting good practical experience in the business world," noted Miss Ellingsen. "And employers are very happy with workers who come through the school."

A students must be at least 16 to apply for the Work Experience Program.

Rice Mixes Lend Variety to Lamb, Chicken Dinners

FEGATINI di PAOLLO—Rice with Chicken Livers

With addition of two new Rice-A-Roni products, bringing the total to ten flavors in its San Francisco Treat line, Golden Grain Macaroni Co. has prepared suggested recipes for menus featuring Stroganoff rice mix and Italian Risotto with saffron.

Spring Lamb Stroganoff is appetizing and economical, a change of pace from the usual meat fare.

Spring Lamb Stroganoff

1 pkg. Rice-A-Roni Stroganoff Rice Mix
4 meaty lamb shanks
2 garlic cloves
1 tbsp. cooking oil
salt and pepper to taste
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup dry white wine
grated peel of half lemon
2¼ cups hot water
1-3 cup milk

Trim fat from meat. Insert garlic slivers near bone. Heat oil in Dutch oven and brown meat on all sides, seasoning with salt and pepper. Add onion, wine and lemon peel. Cover and simmer until meat is tender (about 1½ hours), basting occasionally with pan juices. Place rice mix from package in dry frying pan and stir over moderate heat until vermicelli is light brown. When meat is tender, add rice mix and hot water. Cover, bring to boil, then simmer 15 minutes. Remove shanks to warming platter; stir in milk and Stroganoff Sauce Mix from package. Blend well. Serve alongside meat.

Italian rice with chicken livers is a tempting dinner-in-a-dish.

Risotto Fegatini de Paolo

1 pkg. Rice-A-Roni Risotto Mix
1 lb. chicken livers, washed and dried
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
salt and pepper
2 green onions, sliced
1 tbsp. minced parsley
¼ lb. sliced mushrooms
¼ tsp. garlic salt
¼ cup sherry
4 4 or 5 firm ripe tomatoes, cu in half
2 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese

In a large frying pan, cook rice-vermicelli mix as directed on package, except simmer only 15 minutes. Meanwhile, in a separate pan, brown chicken livers in butter, seasoning with salt and pepper. Remove from pan and set aside. In same pan add onion, parsley and mushrooms, sprinkle with garlic salt and pour in sherry. Stir, scraping up browning from pan. Cook quickly until moisture has almost disappeared. Remove from heat. Press tomato halves, cut side up, into partly cooked Risotto mix at outer edge of pan. Heap livers in center of rice and spoon mushroom mixture over livers. Cover pan and cook 10-15 minutes more, until tomatoes are tender but not mushy. Top tomatoes with cheese and arrange with livers on warm serving dish. Stir rice lightly to blend flavors and then spoon onto same dish for table serving. Enough for 4.

First Course

Well chilled canned fruit cocktail, served in frosty dishes, makes a light and refreshing dinner starter. Top each serving with a spoonful of cranberry sherbet or frozen cranberry juice.

Croquettes Add Flair to Roast

Almond Potato Croquettes take a bit of doing, but they are well worth the effort. Streamline the recipe by using instant mashed potatoes if you wish.

A little blue cheese spread goes into the center of each potato ball to moisten and flavor it, and the balls are coated with crunchy, toasted chopped almonds.

Almond Potato Croquettes

2 lbs. potatoes (4 large potatoes)
1-3 cup milk
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg, separated
About 1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
Dash pepper
6 tablespoons pasteurized process blue cheese spread
¾ cup finely chopped natural almonds

Pare potatoes, cut into pieces and cook in boiling salted water until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain, mash and beat in milk, ¼ cup butter, egg yolk and seasonings. Cool to lukewarm. Shape into 6 balls about 2⅜ inches in diameter, enclosing 1 tablespoon blue cheese spread in the center of each ball. Beat egg white slightly and brush onto potato croquettes; roll in almonds. Place on greased baking sheet; bake at 400 degrees 15 to 20 minues or until potatoes are hot and almonds lightly toasted. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter and brush over croquettes. Serve at once.

Makes 6 servings.

Malaysian Accent for Main Dish

An Americanized version of an exotic Far Eastern dish is Kold Kist's Mushroom Sauce and Sirloin Tips Malaysian.

Sirloin Tips Malaysian

4 6-oz. Heat-in-Pouch or
1 28-oz. Kold Krist Family Pack Mushroom Sauce and Sirloin Tips
3 Stalks celery, sliced diagonally
2 Tablespoons cooking oil
1 Tablespoon instant minced onion or ¼ cup finely chopped green onion
2 Teaspoons grated ginger root or ½ tsp. powdered ginger
¼ Cup soy sauce
1¼ Cups cooked rice
Pimento

Heat sirloin tips according to package directions. Cook rice as directed on package. Saute celery in hot oil until just crisp. (If finely chopped green onion is used, saute it along with celery). Combine celery, onion, ginger root and soy sauce; stir into sirloin tips, simmer slowly until well mixed. Arrange rice in large casserole or serving dish and pour Mushroom Sauce and Sirloin Tips mixture over rice. Garnish with pimento or finely chopped green onion tips. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Package Mixes for Seasoning

Use a tablespoon or two of the seasoning mix from an envelope of onion soup mix or taco, enchillada or chili seasoning to step up the flavor of pot-roasts, stews and meat loaves.

Starring Salad

A star-shaped, raspberry-flavored gelatin salad studded with canned cling peach slices, quartered marshmallows, halved grapes and chopped nuts makes a wonderful holiday salad. Add a tablespoon of vinegar and ½ teaspoon cinnamon to the hot liquid you use in preparing the gelatin base.

The Arthritic Bracelet

The woman smiled when questioned concerning the narrow copper bracelet she wore on her arm. "It is an old family piece," she answered, "but I must admit I seem to have relief (from) arthritis pain when I wear it."

The arthritic bracelet, usually made of an alloy or simple copper, and the new fad, is one of the oldest of medical swindles. It is regrettable that in this scientific age there is resort to amulets and sorcery. The notion that copper applied to or near the skin will activate certain body processes has enjoyed an ancient and wide popularity, but without any scientific basis whatsoever, according to the Arthritis Foundation.

"ID" chains, cufflinks and other jewelry such as tie clasps which do not even touch the body are also being promoted as arthritic cures. Some personally fashioned items sell for as much as $50 and up to $100. Not surprisingly, promoters claim that bracelets worn on each wrist set up a "circuit."

Because the arthritic sufferer will try almost anything for relief, variations of the bracelet fraud have flourished through the years. In 1958 a firm accepted a stipulation agreement of the FTC to stop advertising that copper inner soles would relieve arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago or similar conditions. A later version involved a zinc sole and a copper sole to discharge electricity by generating a current between the feet.

An "electro-galvanic" bracelet of white metal and plastic was ordered destroyed following an ADA seizure action in 1959. A "magnetic" gold or copper colored bracelet with expansion links was seized and destroyed in Puerto Rico in 1963.

There is as yet no known cure for arthritis and few known medications provide any extended period of relief from pain. Arthritis is a serious, crippling disease. It is not, as some advertisers would like the consumer to believe, a series of "minor aches" or pains.

There is a phenomenon that occurs in common forms of arthritis when pain and joint inflammation are reduced, without apparent reason.

This relief, called remission, sometimes occurs when the sufferer may be taking certain medication or is using a cure-all device. Because of this remission the patient often assumes that a permanent cure or basic improvement has been affected.

Arthritis aids must indicate for the protection of the buyer that they are (1) temporary relief of pain and cannot cure, (2) suitable only for minor pains or discomforts. (3) Any persistent pain should be referred to a physician.

Taxicab Ordinance to Supervisors

A proposed taxicab licensing ordinance for San Mateo County has been submitted to the County Board of Supervisors by District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson.

A public hearing has been scheduled for 2 p.m. May 25.

Sorenson told the supervisors that the proposed law, although requested by them to solve some problems at San Francisco International Airport, must have equal application in all other unincorporated areas of the county, including Broadmoor, East Palo Alto and the El Granada-Montara area.

The board asked that the ordinance be prepared after a long series of incidents at the airport involving unfranchised cabbies allegedly passing themselves off as franchised in order to solicit fares. The board also received numerous complaints that drivers of the franchised Yellow Cab Company of San Francisco had refused to hire out on short haul runs to nearby points in San Mateo County.

The ordinance appears to contain provisions aimed at correcting those problems.

Sorenson said that cab companies presently licensed in a city in San Mateo County or in an adjoining county will not be required to obtain licenses here if the provisions of the ordinance under which they are licensed is substantially the same. That provision, however, he added, will not excuse any operators from observing the sections of the San Mateo County ordinance concerning "metering, identification of cabs, and customer relations."

The ordinance, Sorenson told the board, will not cover cabs which only discharge passengers in the unincorporated area and do not make pickups.

"The main concern of this ordinance," he explained, "is the activity at the place of pickup rather than the destination."

Proposed license fees have not been established.

As drafted, the law would require each operator to adopt a distinctive color scheme and design for its cabs and gives the sheriff authority to order a change "if he determines that it is so similar to an existing operation as to deceive or confuse or tend to deceive and confuse the public. The same terms apply to the use of company names.

"It is unlawful," the document declares, "for any driver to refuse transportation to any person unless the driver has no facilities available or the proposed passenger is drunk, disorderly or for other reasons not a fit passenger."

VW Employes Win Journey to Germany

James Sumners and Steven Chow of Ed Norris Volkswagen will be among 32 men touring Germany next month as winners of the Volkswagen Employe Recognition Award.

The Volkswagen Employe Recognition Award is presented annually to personnel from authorized VW dealerships who have been judged outstanding in their job functions. Initial nominations are made by the 60 authorized VW dealers in Northern California, Northern Nevada and Utah and the final winners are selected by the management of Reynold C. Johnson Co. The Johnson firm, located in Pleasanton, Calif., is the western three-state VW distributor.

Sumners has been associated with Ed Norris since 1962. He worked in Norris' automobile wholesale business and became new car sales manager when Norris purchased Daly City Volkswagen in 1967.

Chow has been with Norris Volkswagen's service department since 1966 and is presently a diagnostician.

While touring Germany the men will visit the Volkswagen factories in Wolfsburg, Hannover, Kassel and Emden to investigate manufacturing procedures which will assist them at their dealerships. The tour will also include visits to East and West Berlin.

Eleven female winners toured Mexico last month.

SC Students at Conclave

Seafood Dish For Every Taste At Vince Licata's

All varieties of fresh seafood (when available) are served at Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant in San Mateo. Whether broiled, grilled, baked or prepared in casserole, there's a fish choice to suit every taste. The entrees listed under the Italian selections include Pot Roast, Veal Parmigiana, Veal Cutlets, Chicken Cacciatore, and Sweetbreads Saute, which are served with a choice of spaghetti, ravioli, vegetables or potatoes. Sunday's Special is Roast Chicken and Polenta. For fresh seafood, poultry and delicatessen to take home, visit Vince's market just next door . . . The Red Cottage, a charming restaurant in Menlo Park, can accommodate banquet groups of up to 70 persons. Owners Ken Parrett and Dorothy Pace offer beautiful facilities, and chef Bill Balle's culinary efforts are outstanding. Think of the Red Cottage the next time your business or social group is planning a gathering. . . . Marion Elrod celebrated her retirement from Macy's at a gala dinner party at Lew Lehr's Steak House, in San Francisco's Marina District, hosted by forty-five of her fellow employees.

SMILE OF SUCCESS — Augie Rosasco, an important member of the executive staff at Exposition Fish Grotto, says the vacation season is off to a great start. In his opinion, '71 should be a record breaker for all Fisherman's Wharf restaurants.

South Sea Atmosphere

Brunch served amidst the South Seas is how General Manager Jim Pias describes the Sunday Brunch at The Castaway, Coyote Point. His extensive brunch menu includes breakfast items and several Castaway specialties, as well as champagne. In addition, patrons may also serve themselves from a beautiful buffet table of Island fruit. Special children's menu is also available. For a window table overlook the Bay, it's best to phone for reservations . . . Fresh flowers at each table, silver service, European waiters in tuxedos add up to the dining experience at L'Auberge in Atherton which would be a wise selection for a memorable Mother's Day dinner. For a festive dessert treat order Fresh Strawberry Souffle or Strawberry Flambe prepared by Maitre d' Karl Handwerk . . . Chef Frank Orsi is the resident culinary genius at the Black Stag in Belmont. Orsi particularly excels in Italian dishes. Dinners, served complete, start at $3.95 . . . Gourmet suggestion: Crab Meat Newburg with Rice Pilaf at The Franciscan on Fisherman's Wharf. This delightful dish is just one of several considered to be house specialties.

Nautical Restaurant Scene

A vista view of waves breaking on the beach is a constant reminder of your nautical surroundings when dining at one of Nick Gust's three restaurants at Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. The oceanside of the long dining rooms at Nick's, The Papagayo Room, and The Moonraker afford spectacular views of a long beach where sea gulls strut and surfers challenge surf and tide. Nick's restaurant is the festive gathering place for happy groups celebrating all kinds of special functions (breakfast, lunch or dinner). There's organbar and combo music for dancing on weekends. The Moonraker is especially prominent for its imaginative approach to Continental food. Mexican dishes for gusty appetites is the specialty of The Papagayo Room . . . The Shirt Tail in Palo Alto serves Petit fours, the delightful French dessert, and a beverage, compliments of the house. If you're having a special occasion — birthday or anniversary, advise the waiter and you will receive another surprise at the dinner's conclusion, all with the felicitations of genial Manager Durky Adkins.

Maerd Eip---"A Dream Pie"

Art objects from around the world embellish the walls at Scotty Campbell's, a Redwood City "award-winning" restaurant owned and operated by Mary Lou Francis, Theresa and Bud Urban. Equal to the beauty and comfort of the interior is the cuisine, with specialties such as Prime Rib of Beef (as you like it), Barbecued Baby Ribs, and Gourmet Platter for Two (sliced sirloin, barbecued ribs, chicken and scampi). Dinners include tossed green salad (choice of dressing), oven hot bread, stuffed baked or Idaho baked potato with sour cream and chives, coffee or tea. If you still have the capacity for more, try their special dessert, Maerd Eip (dream pie spelled backward — but there's nothing backward about it) . . . Enrico Romano, owner and operator of Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, takes a great deal of pride in his pizza combinations, whether you order the small, medium or large size. Enrico has spent many years perfecting the craft of making pizzas.

Wide Variety Menu At Ansara's

Ansara's in Redwood City is featuring a wide variety of dinners. Selections range from Shish Kabob en brochette to Top Sirloin Steak in the special $2.95 bracket, or choose from six other entrees. Dinners include soup or salad, dessert and coffee. Because of its location, Ansara's is also an ideal dinner spot for those taking in the show at nearby Circle Star Theater . . .

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

A. Sabella's Will Serve Baked Alaska For 300

A gathering of 300 persons will enjoy a unique five-course dinner (a different chef preparing each course) in the well appointed banquet facilities at A. Sabella's restaurant, Fisherman's Wharf, on Friday, April 30 the finale benefit gourmet golf tournament sponsored by the Pacific Coast Chef's Association. The big event of the evening will be the serving of a giant Baked Alaska dessert which will be placed on a special table, where a blow torch will be used to set off the flame for browning the top. Proceeds from the dinner and golf tournament, which will be played at the San Francisco Golf Club, will go to the DePaul Youth Club of the St. Vincent DePaul Church to aid the sports program . . . Farm Fried Chicken is a considerable menu attraction at Foster's, located across from Hillsdale. A "Bucket for Five" offers a generous amount of Farm Fried Chicken to go for just $3.95. A complete chicken dinner (all you can eat) is tabbed at $2.85. A special treat is the Individual Chicken Pie, served with rolls, honey, wild blackberry sundae and coffee.

Raffles Ready For Action

Raffles restaurant in San Francisco is the newest addition to your Bright Lighter's roster of fine dining establishments. Located in the Fox Plaza, directly across the street from the Merchandise Mart, this is the newest in-place in San Francisco. Owned and operated by Florence and Jim Nowlen, Peninsula residents who also own Tiki Bob's, Raffles specializes in exotic Polynesian food. Seating up to 225 persons, lunchtime here can simply be described as "frantic." Particularly favored by the theater crowd, Raffles is open Monday through Friday only, serving lunch and dinner. . . . Arel Thomas, the gifted young showman who entertains nightly at Stuart Anderson's Black Angus Steak House in San Mateo, has been performing since he was three. With piano and guitar and a unique repertoire with many of his own tunes, Thomas is a distinct crowd pleaser at this famous one-price restaurant, ably managed by Dave Rollo. On tap here for Thursday, April 29, is a No Host dinner meeting of the International Footprint Association, Peninsula Chapter No. 35. All members and their ladies are invited to attend, reports Footprint member Joseph Capizzi, better known to his host of friends as Jockey Joe Dillon.

Hoist The Sails For Tiburon

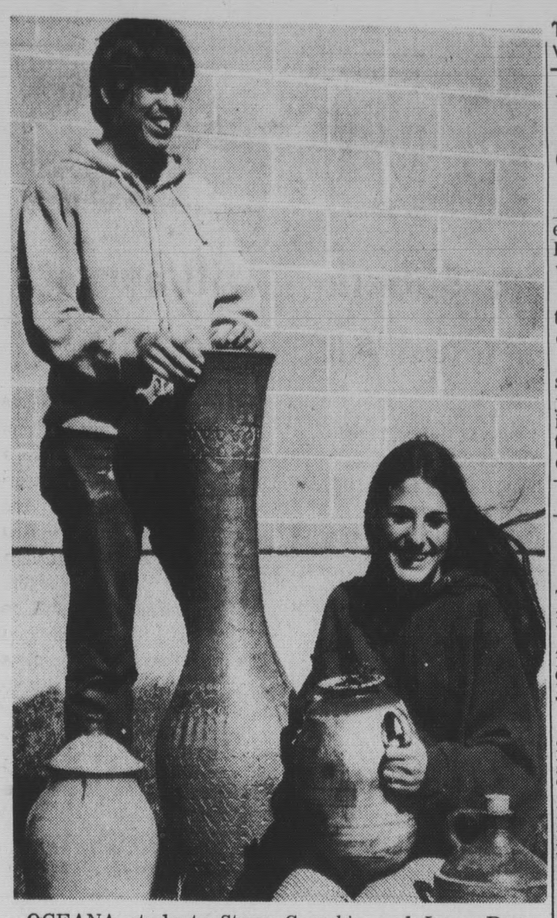
The 1971 Tiburon Champagne Dinner Cruiser is all set to steam out of the harbor from Pier 43½ at Fisherman's Wharf into its eighth season starting Thursday night, April 29. Every Thursday night voyagers can enjoy music, dancing and champagne on their way to Tiburon for dinner before sunset and return to San Francisco by moonlight. Passengers have a choice of six excellent restaurants; individual and group reservations are welcome. $8.75 includes everything. Boats leave at 6:30 p.m. and 7:45 p.m. Already underway are the Saturday and Sunday lunch cruises, which leave at 12:15 p.m. For free brochures and information call 391-2137 . . . Russell Reed, one of the biggest men in show business hereabouts, is going great at Finocchio's house of female impersonations. Reed, whose friends are legion, is seen four times nightly with a rollicking version of "You Gotta See Your Mama Every Night," and other numbers . . . One of the most popular gourmet dinners at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco carries the intriguing name, "Half & Half." It's a savory steak, broiled to your exact taste, plus tender lobster tail; two superb entrees on one dinner.

Enjoy A Fun Day In Nevada

Park Avenue Tours offers vacation treats for fun seekers driving to South Lake Tahoe and the Reno, Nevada area. Refunds vary in both areas, but all are well worth a before-departing visit to your local Park Avenue Tours office. Overnighters are also available, with an excellent bonus package as an added attraction. Barney's Club and the South Tahoe Nugget are the Stateline refund headquarters. The new Ponderosa Hotel is the Reno fun spot. . . . Table tip of the week: The Prime Rib Special served at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel on Mondays and Wednesdays during both luncheon and dinner. COME EARLY and avoid any table wait. . . . Stickney's of San Mateo is yet another outlet in the expanding food empire of restaurateur Adrian "Red" Stickney. "Red" has been serving food in the Bay Area since 1950, beginning with his original Stickney's Hick'ry House in Redwood City. His present restaurant chain is now considered to be one of the most successful in California.

Banquets—Outside Catering

The Banque Room, a magnificent banquet facility at The Shadows of San Mateo, can accommodate large parties and banquets with the greatest of ease. But did you know: Owner Dave Rasmussen and his crew also do outside catering. Regardless of the occasion, they go anywhere on the Peninsula and even to San Francisco with food and drink . . . The Chinatown Wax Museum is yet another major cultural and sightseeing attraction in a city already renowned for Fisherman's Wharf, Cable Cars, Golden Gate Bridge and Telegraph Hill. The Oriental mystique and haunting aromas and flavors of a bygone chapter of San Francisco history and culture have, for the first time, been captured and preserved in wax statuary and artistic settings. The galleries are open 365 days from 10 a.m. through May, from 9 a.m. June through August . . . Bartender Bill Adams is the newest addition to Claude Schroeder's competent crew at the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. Originally from Denver, Adams has been minding a plank since 1937.



OCEANA students Steve Crombie and Lynn Porrazzo display some of the high school entries from Oceana in Pacifica and Capuchino in San Bruno which were entered in the area-wide ceramics show and competition at Oceana. Entries are being exhibited through May 1 in Room 34 at Oceana.

Veteran S.S.F. Officer Retires

Lt. James Keane, 17-year veteran of the South San Francisco Police Department, has taken a voluntary deferred retirement.

Police Chief Sal Rosano said the retirement was effective as of today.

Keane, 44, said personal reasons motivated his decision. He joined the staff in 1954, becoming a sergeant in 1961 and lieutenant in 1962. Keane also was a candidate for the police chief's
